Still No Theater

An Editorial

Many Circleville and Pickaway County people are making regular inquiries concerning the future of the Cliftona Theater, Pinckney St., that was supposed to be rededicated and opened last fall.

Letters to the Editor have appeared frequently in The Herald. Most questions and criticisms are directed to those involved with operation of the theater.

The letters, telephone calls and remarks made in general conversation all have one question in common: "Why is Circleville without a theater and how do we go about getting one?"

First of all, there is a theater building in the city (at least the shell of one). The Cliftona, owned by Harry Clifton Jr., was closed in 1954 and has gradually, due to lack of repairs and maintenance, deteriorated to the point where it will cost from $25,000 to $50,000 to place it in operation again.

The building is leased to a theater chain, Chakeres Inc., whose headquarters are in Springfield, O. According to informed sources the lease expires in May 1963.

The Chakeres firm announced plans for a $50,000 renovation of the building last summer when the Grand Theater, also leased by them, was closed and torn down to make way for The Savings Bank Drive-In. As everyone in this area knows, the plans to re-open the Cliftona never materialized.

According to Clifton, negotiations were made between him and Chakeres for the remodeling which would have included air conditioning of the auditorium. However, they could not agree on a monthly rental fee. Outwardly this factor alone has stymied the theater's opening.

If it is the will of those in authority over the Cliftona to let the building remain idle, there is little, if anything, that can be done.

This presents another alternative — the conditioning of another existing building or the construction of an entirely new one.

Several persons, interested in the project, have indicated that two buildings in the downtown area would be suitable for a movie house.

One is the former location of the Cussins and Fearn Co., N. Court St., which was originally constructed for a theater. The second is the Harden Building on E. Franklin St., now housing the Salvation Army Family Service Store.

One local businessman at one time indicated he was interested in re-opening the Cliftona. But he said he was unable to get by the interest point because of the lease held by Chakeres.

Clifton said yesterday that it had been suggested to him that a theater corporation be formed. The theater owner said he would agree to this if enough interested and responsible persons invested in the project.

Many say "small town theaters" are closing all over the country. It seems a progressive city (not small town) in a progressive county could profitably support at least one theater.

Is Circleville a progressive city or the small town referred to by these people? This can be answered only by the attitude of people making decisions where something of this nature is concerned.

We must also ask this question: Will the community support a theater if we should get one?

Would movie fans treat a theater much as children often value a Christmas toy? Would they take keen interest for a short time, then toss it away?

The entertainment field has changed vastly with the advent of television, drive-in movies and easy transportation facilities. An investment of $25,000 to $50,000 is a lot of money. Would it be worth it, incommensurate, to those providing the funds?

Car in Collision Hits Own Driver

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Chloe Elhoff, 65, had a Tuesday afternoon auto accident in which she was involved twice, once as a motorist and once as a pedestrian.

Police said Mrs. Elhoff's car collided with another at a city intersection. Witnesses told police she was thrown to the ground.

Apparently uninjured, she started to get up. As she did, her own driverless auto knocked her down. Witnesses said its wheels evidently had locked and it made a circle in the wide intersection.

Even after hitting the pavement the second time, Mrs. Elhoff assured police she was unhurt and was taken home.

Retail Group Sets Calendar On Promotions

A sales promotion calendar for 1963 was submitted and accepted yesterday at a meeting of the Retail Merchants Division of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Members named to represent the Retail Merchants at an upcoming meeting of the County Planning and Zoning Commission were Nat Lefko, W. Joe Burns and John Evans.

The planning and zoning session has been scheduled the evening of Jan. 28 at the Courthouse. Several members of City Council have indicated they will attend.

Yesterday's retail meeting was conducted at the Chamber of Commerce office, 127 1/2 E. Main St.

Solons Revive Planning Idea For Circleville

Availability of Funds Looms as Obstacle; County Meeting Eyed

A rather dormant issue was revived in City Council last night.

A brief but concise discussion centered on the long-debated master plan for Circleville, with special emphasis on a zoning ordinance with teeth in it.

The discussion opened when Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick asked what progress, if any, had been made toward a workable plan for the city. Mayor Richard Penn said there was nothing specific to report at this time.

Mayor Penn reminded that Carroll V. Hill and Associates, a professional planning firm, already had submitted a proposal for the city. But the availability of money has held this action to a proposal only, the mayor added.

KIRKPATRICK made it clear that local officials should move one way or the other concerning the planning and zoning issue. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins commented that the city must take more interest than that shown toward the similar Miami Plan which was submitted here several years ago.

The Hill proposal comes with a $4,000 price tag, "a sum that would tug heavily on the city's tight budget" — the view that was taken by the solons last night.

Whether the city would be willing to go along with the county in a combined planning and zoning effort also looms as an uncertainty.

The County Planning and Zoning Commission has scheduled a meeting for Jan. 28 at the Courthouse. Several Councilmen indicated they would attend the session.

New Blast Of Cold Air Hits Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another blast of sub-zero cold in the nation's midsection today indicated no immediate relief from a prolonged spell of frigid weather.

Unseasonable temperatures, except in some Southern sections, chilled most other parts of the nation.

The below-zero belt widened. Arctic air spread from the Midwest into the Northeast and temperatures dropped to sub-zero marks in parts of Ohio, northern New England and sections of New York State.

Low readings in the Northeast included -12 in Caribou, Maine; -10 in Lebanon, N.H., and Watertown, N.Y., and -9 in Massena, N.Y., and Old Town, Maine.

The most intense cold again was in the Midwest. In Wisconsin the mercury plunged to 35 below zero in Lone Rock, near Madison.

That compared with Tuesday's low of -44 and the nation's coldest reading, -50, in Black River Falls, Wis. Record readings for the date were reported in many cities.

Skies were generally clear in the extreme cold belt although snow flurries fell in sections of the Great Lakes.

Temperatures were at or near zero in most of New York State although New York City reported 22 above.

Chimney Traps Saloon Patron

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Down the chimney went Ray Tallman. He got stuck at the bottom. Rescue crews with sledge hammers got him out.

It happened Tuesday at a bar at Sweetwater, west of Miami. Police Chief Jack Knight said Tallman told him the bar was closed when he got there, so he tried the chimney route.

The chimney was 12 inches square on top, but tapered to 8 inches below, and the 140-pound Tallman couldn't make it. Tallman, 40, was charged with breaking and entering.

Plans for Paving Main St. Area Get Council Approval

An ordinance authorizing the city's service director to enter into a contract with consulting engineers for plans and drawings relative to paving a section of E. Main St. was approved last night by Circleville Council.

Although initial steps were taken, some thorny problems still exist. High on the list is the parking situation confronting most residents living in the area.

Nearness of homes to the street has prompted property owners there to take a close look at the paving proposal. If width specifications are to be met, parking may become acute in some places due to the close proximity of houses and street.

Present plans call for resurfacing from Lancaster Pike eastward to the corporation line. The State would pay for construction, while the city would be expected to finance plans, drawings and specifications.

TENTATIVE estimated cost has been set at $80,000. The city's share would be about five per cent of this total.

The ordinance last night authorized Service Director Ronald Sharrett to complete a contract with Burgess & Niple consulting engineers for obtaining of the plans. Street width, the availability of parking space and provisions for sidewalks now hinge on what the consulting firm will come up with in drafting the project.

Sharrett, completing a study of the street area to include a detailed drawing, said a street 3 feet in width is possible. His study indicated the street dedication is 45 feet.

Along with this opinion, the service director offered the alternative of a parking lane on one side of the street and a sidewalk on the other. However, a delegation of property owners appearing before Council indicated this could lead to opposing factions among themselves in determining which should go on what side of the street.

Sharrett said state highway regulations provide for payment roadways up to 30 feet in width, including provisions for curbs and gutters on both sides. Any additional width would be paid for by

11 Crewmen Injured on Jinx Carrier

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Eleven crewmen of the disaster-prone carrier Constellation were injured in an aircraft landing accident. Two of them lost both legs, another one leg.

In a little more than two years, 56 men have been killed and 20 injured on the 75,000-ton warship. The latest accident occurred Tuesday when a steel arresting cable snapped and whipped across the deck as a jet fighter attempted a landing.

"It was like a cracked whip," said a flight surgeon. "It had a guillotine effect. There was no time to get out of the way."

The accident occurred during landing tests as Comdr. H.S. Matthews, 41, of nearby Coronado, was coming in for a landing. The carrier was 110 miles west of San Diego.

The cable, supposed to snag the jet, broke. Matthews gunned his engine, took off and flew to Miramar Naval Air Station.

Chief Aviation Boatswain's Mate Eugene Williams, 37, of nearby National City, and Airman Gordon D. Bucknam 19, of Grand Island, N.Y., lost both their legs. Ens. Leroy G. Hudson, 31, of San Diego, lost his right leg. Others suffered broken limbs and deep cuts.

The Navy said an arresting engine sheave failed, causing the cable to break.

the city or property owners involved.

This presents another question — who would pay for the additional width for a parking lane or lanes, the city or the property owners? The cost for added space has been estimated at $2 per lineal foot.

OTHER legislative business coming before the solons included the passage of three more ordinances.

Two of the measures called for the levying of special assessments for the construction of curbs and gutters on E. Franklin St. and on Fairview Ave. Funds derived will be used to reimburse the city's general fund from which original payment was made.

Another ordinance authorized transfer of $350 for the purchase of additional files and the replacement of one typewriter for Circleville Municipal Court.

Ole Miss Jury Indicts 4 Men

Professional Agitator Gets Condemnation

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — A man described as a "professional agitator" and three others are under indictment as a federal grand jury delves deeper today into the University of Mississippi desegregation riot.

The jury—in its seventh day—has heard some testimony concerning six others, including former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who were arrested following the Sept. 30 riot which killed two and injured scores.

The four indicted Tuesday are Melvin Bruce, 35, of Decatur, Ga., a crippled truck contractor the jury called a professional agitator; Phillip Lloyd Miles and Kline Lamar May, both of Prichard, Ala.; and Richard Hay Hinton of Lucedale, Miss. All four are free on bond ranging from $25,000 to $5,000.

They were charged with interfering with a federal marshal performing duties and willfully attempting to obstruct or impede by threat or force the execution of court orders which directed admission of a Negro, James H. Meredith, to the university.

If convicted of the interference charge, the four could be sentenced to three years in jail and fined $5,000. The maximum penalty for the other offense is one year and a $1,000 fine.

They are scheduled to go on trial in May.

Two no true bills—failure to find sufficient grounds for indictment—were returned by the jury. The bills were not made public, however. Another grand jury could investigate the same cases later.

Court sources indicated the jury would continue dealing with the rioting for several days.

Appeal Made For Special Blood Types

Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary of the local Red Cross Chapter, today announced that an appeal is being made for special types of blood during the Bloodmobile visit tomorrow.

The appeal is being made for two children scheduled to undergo open-heart surgery. The children, a 10-year-old boy and a 4 1/2-year-old girl, have O RH negative type blood. Officials are asking for 12-15 donors of this type during tomorrow's Bloodmobile visit.

Mrs. Wolford added that great effort needs to be made also to collect 12-15 O negatives in excess of the special recruitment, as well as 12-15 A negatives, 4 B negatives and 2-3 AB negatives. These blood types are in heavy demand and adequate quantity cannot be maintained unless special emphasis is placed on these types, she said.

Bloodmobile hours are from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m. at the First Methodist Church.

Cuban Cries For Masses To Enter Combat

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro denounced today the split in the ranks of world communism and issued a fiery call to the Latin American masses to rise in revolution.

Crouching over his microphones with his eyes flashing, Castro declared it is the duty of revolutionary leaders to rally the masses for combat.

"It is the masses who make history and to make history it is necessary to bring the masses to battle," he shouted in a televised speech monitored here.

"We don't deny the possibility of a peaceful transition although we are still awaiting the first case," he said.

Addressing a congress of American women meeting in Havana, Castro told the delegates their duty is to fight.

The congress, which drew delegates from many American nations — reportedly including the United States and Canada — has been conferring for five days on women's rights and revolutionary duties. Observers were on hand from Europe and Asia. Castro's talk climaxed the meeting.

Castro said Cuba had no intention of "throwing wood on the fire" of the Communist split but feels a duty to fight for unity with the methods of Marxism-Leninism.

"The liberating movement is fighting in Angola, in Viet Nam, in Latin America and this fight needs all the united force of the Socialist camp," he said.

Castro did not mention Red China or the Soviet Union by name but left no doubt that he had reference to the deep ideological differences which have arisen between the two major Communist powers.

Cuba, he said, faces a difficult situation.

"In the first place, it is the fundamental target of imperialism," he said. "Second there are divisions within the socialist camp. I mean that for us the crisis of the Caribbean is not resolved. War is averted but the peace is not won. Our problem today is how to create all we require to satisfy our necessities."

"This is not easy to do with the claws of imperialism over us, with the incessant hostility of the most powerful and aggressive imperialistic nation in the world."

But, said Castro to prolonged applause, "This country never will be conquered. And if one day the Yankee imperialists, using all their strength and resources, decide to destroy this country, the most they will be able to do is destroy but not defeat us."

School Board Will Continue Bid Review

The Westfall Board of Education met last night to review bids for the construction of its proposed new school.

Pickaway County Superintendent George D. McDowell said the board will review and give consideration to resubmitted bids this week. Members probably will announce letting of the contract Monday.

No definite action was taken last night. All earlier bids exceeded the architect's estimate.

Last May voters in the Westfall School District approved a $1,395,000 bond issue to build a new school.

The high schools in the district—Monroe, Williamsport, Darby and Jackson — were operating on temporary charters. When the bond issue passed the charters were renewed for another school term.

Roller Skating Pupils Too Tired For Classes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two boys roller skated five miles to school Tuesday when the bus they normally ride was canceled by the citywide transit strike.

Thomas Ionescue, 13, and Pedro Vellafone, 14, were so tired when they arrived they could hardly stay awake in class.

They were rewarded. A teacher drove them home at the end of the day.

Soviet Says War Not Proper Base

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev told his Communist comrades today the United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads and Communist policy cannot be based on war.

If all the American bombs were dropped, he said, 700 million to 800 million people would be killed and whole nations wiped out.

Departing from his text, Khrushchev spoke of the Soviet Union's giant nuclear bomb, implying it could be used only against the United States.

"Dear comrades, now I tell you a secret," he said. "Our scientists have developed a new 100-megaton bomb. This bomb could not be used in Western Europe because it would hit France and Germany and you too. This bomb could only be used overseas against a potential aggressor."

In a wide-ranging speech to the sixth Communist party congress of East Germany, Khrushchev thus answered the Chinese Communist who have accused him of being afraid of a "paper tiger" — the United States—when he backed down on Cuba.

Speaking clearly in the context of his argument with Peking over war and peace as it applies to Communist expansion, Khrushchev pleaded that the fight for peace was the "prime task for socialism."

He departed from his text and waved his arms as he declared: "Russian Communists never started a war to carry communism to victory. Some who call themselves Marxists and Leninists want to win Socialist victory by war."

Dropping his voice to make his point clear, he warned: "The United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads. What would happen if one let all those bombs come down on humanity? Seven hundred to eight hundred million people would perish. Countries would be rubbed out."

"Would socialism win by a thermonuclear war? No. You cannot build socialism in an atomic-infested territory."

"A 100-megaton bomb — on France or West Germany — would hit you. This I only say to show you the effects. We tried out this bomb and that is what our scientists have calculated."

Thundering Battle of Budget Is Shaping Up in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A thundering battle of the budget appears to be shaping up in Congress.

Its outcome may determine how much of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts and welfare legislation will get through.

Kennedy will present to Congress Thursday a budget of around $99 billion. It will be accompanied by a Treasury estimate that the spending involved would add more than $10 billion to the deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

No one in the administration regards it as a happy circumstance that the President will have to report so much projected red ink spending at a time he is asking Congress to slice about $6 billion off of tax receipts in the same year.

The reaction could affect his whole three-year, $13.5 billion-tax reduction program. It could spell

An ordinance authorizing the city's service director to enter into a contract with consulting engineers for plans and drawings relative to paving a section of E. Main St. was approved last night by Circleville Council.

Although initial steps were taken, some thorny problems still exist. High on the list is the parking situation confronting most residents living in the area.

Nearness of homes to the street has prompted property owners there to take a close look at the paving proposal. If width specifications are to be met, parking may become acute in some places due to the close proximity of houses and street.

Present plans call for resurfacing from Lancaster Pike eastward to the corporation line. The State would pay for construction, while the city would be expected to finance plans, drawings and specifications.

TENTATIVE estimated cost has been set at $80,000. The city's share would be about five per cent of this total.

The ordinance last night authorized Service Director Ronald Sharrett to complete a contract with Burgess & Niple consulting engineers for obtaining of the plans. Street width, the availability of parking space and provisions for sidewalks now hinge on what the consulting firm will come up with in drafting the project.

Sharrett, completing a study of the street area to include a detailed drawing, said a street 3 feet in width is possible. His study indicated the street dedication is 45 feet.

Along with this opinion, the service director offered the alternative of a parking lane on one side of the street and a sidewalk on the other. However, a delegation of property owners appearing before Council indicated this could lead to opposing factions among themselves in determining which should go on what side of the street.

Sharrett said state highway regulations provide for payment roadways up to 30 feet in width, including provisions for curbs and gutters on both sides. Any additional width would be paid for by

11 Crewmen Injured on Jinx Carrier

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Eleven crewmen of the disaster-prone carrier Constellation were injured in an aircraft landing accident. Two of them lost both legs, another one leg.

In a little more than two years, 56 men have been killed and 20 injured on the 75,000-ton warship. The latest accident occurred Tuesday when a steel arresting cable snapped and whipped across the deck as a jet fighter attempted a landing.

"It was like a cracked whip," said a flight surgeon. "It had a guillotine effect. There was no time to get out of the way."

The accident occurred during landing tests as Comdr. H.S. Matthews, 41, of nearby Coronado, was coming in for a landing. The carrier was 110 miles west of San Diego.

The cable, supposed to snag the jet, broke. Matthews gunned his engine, took off and flew to Miramar Naval Air Station.

Chief Aviation Boatswain's Mate Eugene Williams, 37, of nearby National City, and Airman Gordon D. Bucknam 19, of Grand Island, N.Y., lost both their legs. Ens. Leroy G. Hudson, 31, of San Diego, lost his right leg. Others suffered broken limbs and deep cuts.

The Navy said at arresting engine sheave failed, causing the cable to break.

Collier Is Selected As Coach of Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blanton Collier was named head coach of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League today.

Harold Suerbeil, business manager of the team, was named general manager.

the city or property owners involved.

This presents another question — who would pay for the additional width for a parking lane or lanes, the city or the property owners? The cost for added space has been estimated at $2 per lineal foot.

OTHER legislative business coming before the solons included the passage of three more ordinances.

Two of the measures called for the levying of special assessments for the construction of curbs and gutters on E. Franklin St. and on Fairview Ave. Funds derived will be used to reimburse the city's general fund from which original payment was made.

Another ordinance authorized transfer of $350 for the purchase of additional files and the replacement of one typewriter for Circleville Municipal Court.

Ole Miss Jury Indicts 4 Men

Professional Agitator Gets Condemnation

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A man described as a "professional agitator" and three others are under indictment as a federal grand jury delves deeper today into the University of Mississippi desegregation riot.

The jury—in its seventh day—has heard some testimony concerning six others, including former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who were arrested following the Sept. 30 riot which killed two and injured scores.

The four indicted Tuesday are Melvin Bruce, 35, of Decatur, Ga., a crippled truck contractor the jury called a professional agitator; Phillip Lloyd Miles and Kline Lamar Ray, both of Prichard, Ala.; and Richard Hay Hinton of Lucedale, Miss. All four are free on bond ranging from $25,000 to $5,000.

They were charged with interfering with a federal marshal performing duties and willfully attempting to obstruct or impede by threat or force the execution of court orders which directed admission of a Negro, James H. Meredith, to the university.

If convicted of the interference charge, the four could be sentenced to three years in jail and fined $5,000. The maximum penalty for the other offense is one year and a $1,000 fine.

They are scheduled to go on trial in May.

Two no true bills—failure to find sufficient grounds for indictment—were returned by the jury. The bills were not made public, however. Another grand jury could investigate the same cases later.

Court sources indicated the jury would continue dealing with the rioting for several days.

Appeal Made For Special Blood Types

Mrs. Roliff Wolford, executive secretary of the local Red Cross Chapter, today announced that an appeal is being made for special types of blood during the Bloodmobile visit tomorrow.

The appeal is being made for two children scheduled to undergo open-heart surgery. The children are a 10-year-old boy and a 4½-year-old girl, have O RH negative type blood. Officials are asking for 12-15 donors of this type during tomorrow's Bloodmobile visit.

Mrs. Wolford added that great effort needs to be made also to collect 12-15 O negatives in excess of the special recruitment, as well as 12-15 A negatives, 4 B negatives and 2-3 AB negatives. These blood types are in heavy demand and adequate quantity cannot be maintained unless special emphasis is placed on these types, she said.

Bloodmobile hours are from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m. at the First Methodist Church.

Cuban Cries For Masses To Enter Combat

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro denounced today the split in the ranks of world communism and issued a fiery call to the Latin American masses to rise in revolution.

Crouching over his microphones with his eyes flashing, Castro declared it is the duty of revolutionary leaders to rally the masses for combat.

"It is the masses who make history and to make history it is necessary to bring the masses to battle," he shouted in a televised speech monitored here.

"We don't deny the possibility of a peaceful transition although we are still awaiting the first case," he said.

Addressing a congress of American women meeting in Havana, Castro told the delegates their duty is to fight.

The congress, which drew delegates from many American nations — reportedly including the United States and Canada — has been conferring for five days on women's rights and revolutionary duties. Observers were on hand from Europe and Asia. Castro's talk climaxed the meeting.

Castro said Cuba had no intention of "throwing wood on the fire" of the Communist split but feels a duty to fight for unity with the methods of Marxism-Leninism.

"The liberating movement is fighting in Angola, in Viet Nam, in Latin America and this fight needs all the united force of the Socialist camp," he said.

Castro did not mention Red China or the Soviet Union by name but left no doubt that he had reference to the deep ideological differences which have arisen between the two major Communist powers.

Cuba, he said, faces a difficult situation.

"In the first place, it is the fundamental target of imperialism," he said. "Second there are divisions within the socialist camp. I mean that for us the crisis of the Caribbean is not resolved. War is averted but the peace is not won. Our problem today is how to create all we require to satisfy our necessities."

"This is not easy to do with the claws of imperialism over us, with the incessant hostility of the most powerful and aggressive imperialistic nation in the world."

But, said Castro to prolonged applause, "This country never will be conquered. And if one day the Yankee imperialists, using all their strength and resources, decide to destroy this country, the most they will be able to do is destroy but not defeat us."

School Board Will Continue Bid Review

The Westfall Board of Education met last night to review bids for the construction of its proposed new school.

Pickaway County Superintendent George D. McDowell said the board will review and give consideration to resubmitted bids this week. Members probably will announce letting of the contract Monday.

No definite action was taken last night. All earlier bids exceeded the architect's estimate. Last May voters in the Westfall School District approved a $1,395,000 bond issue to build a new school.

The high schools in the district—Monroe, Williamsport, Darby and Jackson — were operating on temporary charters. When the bond issue passed the charters were renewed for another school term.

Roller Skating Pupils Too Tired For Classes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two boys roller skated five miles to school Tuesday when the bus they normally ride was canceled by the citywide transit strike.

Thomas Ionescu, 13, and Pedro Vellafone, 14, were so tired when they arrived they could hardly stay awake in class.

They were rewarded. A teacher drove them home at the end of the day.

Soviet Says War Not Proper Base

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev told his Communist comrades today the United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads and Communist policy cannot be based on war.

If all the American bombs were dropped, he said, 700 million to 800 million people would be killed and whole nations wiped out.

Departing from his text, Khrushchev spoke of the Soviet Union's giant nuclear bomb, implying it could be used only against the United States.

"Dear comrades, now I tell you a secret," he said. "Our scientists have developed a new 100-megaton bomb. This bomb could not be used in Western Europe because it would hit France and Germany and you too. This bomb could only be used overseas against a potential aggressor."

In a wide-ranging speech to the sixth Communist party congress of East Germany, Khrushchev thus answered the Chinese Communists who have accused him of being afraid of a "paper tiger" — the United States—when he backed down on Cuba.

Once Around Roundtown State Senator To Quit Post

NOW Bill Goeller knows what lightning in the winter forecasts... He received a postcard in the mail with the following explanation...

"Bill — No doubt your grandfathers said, 'Wen es donnert in blut wald, bist mer cald.' ... Which when translated says: 'If it thunders in the bare trees, there will be more cold weather'. It was sent by Bob Brehmer Sr."

A PRECEDENT must have been set in City Council last night. Councilman Robert Hedges offered a motion extending heartiest congratulations to City Fireman Mike Brown and Mrs. Brown on the birth of their triplets. His fellow solons responded with 100 per cent approval.

SPEAKING of the Brown triplets — the first ever born at Bergner Hospital according to the records — several local merchants have come up with the idea of a gift program for the triplicate newborns...

The move sounds appropriate for the great occasion... Let the Herald staff know if such a program has merit.

UTILITIES Director Erv Leist says the city's water tank will be painted the color the people desire... However, he noted that the color green earlier had been selected for the huge tower...

He currently is trying to contact the contractor in an effort to see if the color scheme could be changed... Many citizens favor a yellow or orange to resemble a pumpkin — as a landmark to the famous Circleville Pumpkin Show.

Thundering Battle of Budget Is Shaping Up in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—A thundering battle of the budget appears to be shaping up in Congress.

Its outcome may determine how much of President Kennedy's proposed tax cuts and welfare legislation will get through.

Kennedy will present to Congress Thursday a budget of around $99 billion. It will be accompanied by a Treasury estimate that the spending involved would add more than $10 billion to the deficit in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

No one in the administration regards it as a happy circumstance that the President will have to report so much projected red ink spending at a time he is asking Congress to slice about $6 billion off of tax receipts in the same year.

The reaction could affect his whole three-year, $13.5 billion-tax reduction program. It could spell

Speaking clearly in the context of his argument with Peking over war and peace as it applies to Communist expansion, Khrushchev pleaded that the fight for peace was the "prime task for socialism."

He departed from his text and waved his arms as he declared: "Russian Communists never started a war to carry communism to victory. Some who call themselves Marxists and Leninists want to win Socialist victory by war."

Dropping his voice to make his point clear, he warned:

"The United States has 40,000 atomic or nuclear warheads. What would happen if one let all those bombs come down on humanity? Seven hundred to eight hundred million people would perish. Countries would be rubbed out."

"Would socialism win by a thermonuclear war? No. You cannot build socialism in an atomic-infested territory."

"A 100-megaton bomb — on France or West Germany — would hit you. This I only say to show you the effects. We tried out this bomb and that is what our scientists have calculated."

In his major policy speech in East Berlin, the Soviet premier also:

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Kline L. Roberts, 46, a former majority leader in the Ohio House, will be appointed executive secretary and general manager of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, it was learned today.

Roberts declined comment. He will resign from the Senate shortly before the end of the 105th General Assembly session in order that a Republican caucus can name a successor. Speculation is that former senator Richard B. Metcalf, also of Columbus, will succeed him.

Roberts, an attorney, will be successor in the chamber of commerce position to Delmar G. Starkey, who is retiring.

Former U2 Pilot Granted Divorce

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Francis Gary Powers, former U2 pilot who served a prison term in the Soviet Union, was granted a divorce today.

A Superior Court jury granted Barbara Powers alimony of $5,000. The jury deliberated about half an hour.

Powers charged his wife with habitual intoxication and cruelty. Mrs. Powers filed a countersuit and told the jury that her husband was "not the same" since his return from a Soviet prison.

Harvard To OK Women

BOSTON (AP)—For the first time, the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration will be open in September to women for its two-year program.

Claimed he was victorious in the Cuban crisis, prevented the United States from attacking the island and thereby kept communism alive there.

Called for conclusion of a German peace treaty which "will not bring gains to one side and losses to the other." But he set no deadline, saying the Berlin wall had made a treaty a less pressing problem.

The Soviet leader in his 2 1/2-hour speech scornfully reviewed Peking's arguments against his policies. He denied that he had turned soft under U.S. pressure.

He stressed again the need for Communist unity.

"In the relation between Communist parties one has to show patience. Discussions are possible but one has to approach our common goal patiently," he said.

He rejected Red China's demand for a world meeting of Communist leaders to air Moscow-Peking differences.

Wa Hsui Chuan, the Red Chinese delegate, sat expressionless through Khrushchev's speech. In the rising ovation at the end, Wu stood with his arms stiffly at his sides.

Khrushchev ridiculed the Red Chinese idea that peaceful co-existence meant giving up the class struggle in capitalist lands, calling that Peking idea "a stupid nursery maid's tale."

Estimated loss to the buildings was $2,000 and contents were valued at $500. The Williamsport Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene.

The blaze was thought to have been caused by heat lamps in the building.

Stock Market Shows Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — High-stepping Chrysler was clipped by profit-taking and the stock market as a whole took a fairly sharp dip early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

The list seemed to be going through a genuine correction of its sustained rally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.0 at 251.8 with industrials off 2.0, rails off .5, and utilities off .1.

While there was nothing dramatic about such a loss, it would be the largest of 1963 if it were maintained to the market close.

Chrysler was down more than 3 at worst, later shading the loss. The stock, at its latest high of 85 1/2, was selling at a peak price since 1956, having risen from a 1962 low of 38 1/2.

Pollution requirements have been set down by the Ohio Board of Pollution Control. Circleville is one of many cities listed below standard concerning disposal facilities.

LEIST has presented two proposed two detailed plans directed towards upgrading the city system to a level acceptable to the Pollution Board. Circleville currently is allowed to dump waste into the Scioto River on the basis that improvements will be made.

Leist said pressure is now being applied by the state, with May 15 looming as the deadline for positive action. He suggested that Council meet as a body at the disposal plant for a first-hand look at what the city has and get some idea of what future steps should be taken.

The meeting was set for 2 p. m. Feb. 3. The solons will gather at the sewage plant immediately west of the Route 23 bypass.

copper-rich region and "facilitate the process of reintegration of the province into the republic."

Diplomatic sources said Adoula had not yet decided whether to visit Elisabethville, the capital, as Tshombe requested Tuesday in announcing that Katanga's 30-month-old secession was ended.

U.N. officials in Katanga warily continued their military buildup, lest there be some last minute breakdown in completing the arrangements among the Congo, the United Nations and Tshombe's war battered regime.

Military authorities on the scene treated the surrender offer with extreme caution even though the Congolese central government agreed to Tshombe's demand for a full amnesty. It was his lone remaining condition for returning to the Congo fold.

Indian troops advancing on Kolwezi were reported under Katanga mortar fire Tuesday night. The Indians suffered one wounded in a sharp fight earlier in the day. They were reported 72 miles from the Tshombe stronghold and its vital mines and utilities which the secessionists once threatened to blow up.

While U.N. troops in the field kept on the alert, signs multiplied elsewhere that Tshombe's long fight for Katanga independence was at an end.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, often skeptical in the past about Tshombe's pronouncements, welcomed the Katanga leader's new promise to cooperate with the United Nations. Thant said in New York he hoped Tshombe's readiness to allow U.N. troops freedom of movement would be put into effect promptly.

Nine of Tshombe's white officers, obviously not trusting in any amnesty promises from the Leopoldville government, cleared out of Kolwezi and crossed the border into Northern Rhodesia.

Tshombe already has paid off the white officers.

A U.N. spokesman in New York announced that Congolese Premier Cyrille Adoula and President Joseph Kasavubu had sent letters to Thant assuring him that they stood by previous affirmations of amnesty.

Under Thant's plan for Congo unification, the central government is required to "immediately enact and, if necessary introduce and defend in Parliament, legislation proclaiming a general amnesty." The Congo Parliament now is in recess after almost voting Adoula out of office.

Tshombe told newsmen in Kolwezi that he, members of his government and all who had served him must be given the amnesty provided for in Thant's plan.

Adoula's Cabinet surveyed the situation at a meeting in Leopoldville Tuesday. Some ministers want to bar Tshombe from any position of leadership in a unified Congo. But Adoula favors keeping a place for him in Katanga, where he is popular despite his military reverses.

Not a Cheering Prospect

As chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin Jr. is closely attuned to matters affecting world currency transactions. He more than any man is acquainted with the relative strength of the dollar in comparison with other currencies.

Mr. Martin, in a speech to the American Finance Association and the American Economic Association, revealed that the U. S. balance of payments deficit was disappointing in 1962. Instead of the anticipated deficit of $1.5 billion, he said, the final tally will probably show the United States well over $2 billion in the red for last year.

Adding such a large deficit in a year which began with the United States owing more gold to foreign creditors than it possessed weakens the dollar's standing at home and abroad. Should gold demands by creditors reduce U. S. gold stocks below the Federal Reserve certificate requirement, the dollar almost certainly would encounter devaluation pressures. Only a few billions in gold separate the U. S. from this prospect.

"Whatever other consequences would follow from a devaluation of the dollar," Mr. Martin warned, "I am convinced that it would immediately spell the end of the dollar as an international currency and the beginning of a retreat from the present world role of the United States that would produce far-reaching political as well as economic effects."

It is not a cheering prospect, but Mr. Martin's warning is likely to be heard again and again throughout this session of Congress, especially when money bills affecting U. S. balance of payments come before it. Bills like those which provide for foreign aid to communist countries, for instance.

Double-Talk Assures Success

NEW YORK (AP)—If you're going to be a social success in 1963, you'll have to pep up your double-talk.

Practice makes perfect in double-talk, the art of saying what you don't mean—and meaning what you don't say. You can't trust to on-the-spot inspiration. You have to keep everlastingly at it.

For the beginners (and those who have failed to keep up their oral exercises in this form of non-communication), here are a few everyday examples of double-talk—plus their literal translations.

"We thought our daughter would feel more at home in a small community college." (The admissions people at Vassar, Radcliffe, Bryn Mawr, Wellesley and Smith thought so, too.)

"Maude is one woman who does not mind telling her age." (Not that is, since she quit having birthdays 10 years ago.)

"Gee, boss, I'll never be able to understand where you get all your ideas." (You must be stealing them from somebody besides me.)

"Come right in, Joe. Long time no see." (I warned the receptionist to tell this guy I was away on a three-month trip.)

"I think you'll enjoy the corned beef, sir, it's our chef's special for today." (It didn't go very well yesterday or the day before.)

"Frankly, Jim, if you hadn't told me, I wouldn't even have known you had new dentures. (I thought all the members of your family sounded like that when they chewed celery.)"

"Your husband is so witty, Frances! Really, he should be on the stage." (Or is scaffold the word I'm groping for?)

"That child of yours is as smart as a tack." (And I'd like to be the first to put a hammer to him!)

"I insist, pal, this one's on me." (Then you get the next one, old buddy, after the rest of the crowd arrives.)

"I'm sorry I can't tonight George, but I could go out with you Friday." (You do get paid on Fridays, don't you?)

"What kind of a woman do you think would marry you merely for your money?" (My kind!)

"Stick with me, kid, and you'll always travel first class." (After all, there's only one fare on the subway.)

"Well, congressman, glad you got re-elected. Good to see you back again. Washington wouldn't be the same without you." (I'll think of his name in just a minute.)

British Liberal in U.S.

Floating around the eastern part of the United States these days is a tall, attractive Englishman named Joseph — or Jo (without an "w" on the end of it) — Grimond. He is the leader of the British Liberal Party, which is making something of a comeback in its home isle after long years spent in the wilderness.

Grimond appeared at Yale University last week as a Chubb Fellow, thus joining ex-President Truman, ex-Attorney General Herbert Brownell, and Senator Barry Goldwater in a list of luminaries who have been reckoned sufficiently important to be invited to spend several days talking to undergraduates about the great world of politics. This week Grimond is scheduled to appear in Washington for a meeting with President Kennedy.

The English Liberal leader had much to say to the Yale boys about the desirability of British participation in the European Common Market. But what interested me particularly about his conversation was his analysis of the social forces which points to the possible decline and break-up of the Labour Party in England, the same forces are at work today in America, eroding the power base that once threatened to put Washington, D.C., under the control of industrial unions whose leadership has cared little for the perpetuation of a freely competitive economic system.

In Britain, the evangelistic fervor of the middle Nineties seems to have gone out of the Labour Party. The party intellectuals, headed by Hugh Gaitskell, do not speak the language of the trade union wing. As the lure of nationalized industries loses its glitter, no longer serving as an issue to bind trade unionists and intellectuals, a middle class "swing vote" has deserted Labour for the Conservatives.

But if Mr. Grimond is right, this swing vote cannot really feel at home in the Conservative Party of dukes and landed gentry and believers in the old-style British imperial mission. Grimond makes the point that his Liberal Party stands for the right to own property. But he speaks for a new order of properties: people the young technicians of industry who own somewhat Americanized homes complete with refrigerators, washing machines, television sets and at least one car standing outside at the curb. Grimond is making his appeal to members of the newly affluent classes who wish to see British industry delivered from the toils of government bureaucracy on the one hand, and the old system of cartelized monopoly on the other.

He spoke last week of efforts to spread the ownership of voting stock in British corporations, possibly by giving tax concessions to businesses which sell shares on a preferential basis to their own employees.

If the Conservative Party fails to hold the young defectors from the Gaitskell wing of the Labour Party, the Liberal Party might suddenly re-emerge as the second party in British politics. At the very least it may aspire to become a balance-of-power group with sufficient representation in Parliament to force significant compromises on both the Conservative majority and the Aloyal opposition" as symbolized by Labour's Hugh Gaitskell.

The revivification of British Liberalism, which is something quite distant from the collectivist liberalism of those Americans who would be called Socialists if they lived in England, is part of a world phenomenon. On the continent of Europe this phenomenon has resulted in the decline of the old Marxist parties. In Germany, the new realignment of forces has compelled the old Social Democratic Party to repudiate Marx's insistence on government ownership of the means of production.

In the United States the emergence of young families with a property stake in society that is far more widely diffused than was the case in the Nineties Thirties is making trouble for Republicans and Democrats alike. The young, whose parents were Rooseveltians, do not feel comfortable under the Republican label. But they do not want to be run by a coalition consisting of Walter Reuther and the left-wing Farmers Union. So they back and fill, electing Eisenhower at one time, and defeating Richard Nixon by a hair's breadth at another.

Maybe, if Grimond stresses the portent to President Kennedy of the Liberal Party as related to the English scene, he will, by force of the unspoken analogy, point the way to a Presidential reconsideration of the Democratic Party's power base.

Dear Doctor: I've been told that electric blankets are bad for old people; that they warm the legs, increasing the need for more blood than sluggish circulation can supply.

Any truth?

Mrs. A. B. (Minn.)

Dear Mrs. B: No. Woolen blankets can heat you just as much. Electric blankets radiate less heat per square foot than heating pads. Heating pads warm body tissue; electric blankets merely preserve normal warmth by insulating you from cold room air.

If the heat under the blanket even approached body temperature (98 degrees), you'd begin to sweat uncomfortably!

Dear Doctor: I have spells where I smell an offensive odor but nobody else does. The aroma isn't always the same.

Could hardening of the arteries cause this?

Mrs. C. O. (Pa.)

Dear Mrs. O: Yes. Poor circulation sometimes whips brain cells into furious uncontrolled activity. Shakes and spasms start when the affected brain cells control muscle action.

Other cells make you see, hear, feel, taste or smell something that isn't there.

Epilepsy medicines may be the perfect air freshener for you. Ask your doctor.

Dear Doctor: Can anything cure dandruff?

Mrs. S. S. (N. H.)

Dear Mrs. S: Some dandruff is normal; don't get caught in the old skin game trying to cure this. Troublesome dandruff stems from excess scaling and dried scalp oil, perspiration, tonics and sprays.

Ask your doctor about a prescription for Selsun-R and shampoo twice weekly.

First rub in and rinse off a mild shampoo like Dial-R; repeat, using Selsun-R; repeat again, but allow Selsun-R to soak in 5 minutes before rinsing.

Dear Doctor: After a "mother patch", my rash burst into red, flat spots on trunk and neck.

What causes this old-fashioned rash with a long-for-gotten name?

Mr. J. K. (N. Y.)

Dear Mr. K: It's no more old-fashioned than measles! You have the 1963 model of pityriasis rosea. It may be an infection; no one's certain. Wearing new—unwashed—pajamas and underclothes often brings it on.

It usually fades completely in 6 to 8 weeks.

Dear Doctor: Is Bell's Palsy permanent?

Mrs. M. D. (Texas)

Dear Mrs. D: Four out of five victims recover completely. Meanwhile, adhesive tape splints and wire gadgets reduce the Bell's toll by keeping paralyzed face muscles from overstretching.

After 6 to 12 months, chances for recovery shrink and it's time to consult a plastic surgeon.

More Imported Corks, Fewer Spuds What Country Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — What this country needs is more imported cork stoppers, fewer imported potatoes, a national lottery, and a balanced budget.

It could also use a department of uriculture, vitamin A in its nonfat dry milk, colored post cards, more three-day weekends, a new version of the Star-Spangled Banner, and Grandmother's Day.

These, at least are gaps in the national scene noted by members of the House of Representatives who have rushed to fill them in the opening moments of the 88th Congress.

Although the House has been in session only about six hours, some 2,000 bills have already been introduced. They deal with almost every subject imaginable, including using Social Security records to locate runaway parents.

This is a suggestion of Rep. Abraham J. Multer, D-N.Y., who could function pretty well as a one-man legislature. He already has 173 bills in.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., would like more holidays to fall on Monday and has a bill making that the official day for observing Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans Day.

Besides Grandmother's Day, there are those who think we should observe Shut-Ins Day, Purple Heart Day, Children's Day, Food Service Week, Senior Citizens Month and Welded Products Month.

Rep. Lindley Beckworth, D-Tex. is fearful the new higher postal rates will prevent elderly pensioners from communicating with their families. He is seeking a colored penny postcard for strictly personal messages.

There are bills to help Indians artists, nurses, ducks, veterans, page boys. Bills to get the United States out of the United Nations and retire the national debt.

And there is a measure by Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R-Wis. All he would like is a little national recognition for the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, Wis.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The President's tax package offers just what many business leaders and organizations have been asking. Whether Congress will give it to them is another matter. And whether it will work as tax-cutting advocates hope is still another.

What President Kennedy proposed in his State of the Union message is a cutback in corporate income tax rates to the 47 per cent of pre-Korean War years and a trimming of the top bracket of individual income rates to 65 per cent from the present 91 per cent. The top levy hits very few taxpayers but presumably hobbles big investors.

Many businessmen see a catch in all this. The President proposes at the same time to close loopholes and broaden the base of taxation, to bring in about $3.5 billion a year. The catch is that some companies and industries might end up paying more to the Treasury than they do now. Some of these treasured loopholes are pretty big.

The President says the corporate rate cut should save business $2.5 billion a year. Along with the $2 billion which could be saved if all take advantage of recent changes in depreciation allowances and investment credits, this figures out to $4.5 billion a year relief for business. The President hopes and expects that this sum would be spent in modernization and expansion of the nation's industrial plant.

But here, too, there could be a catch. A firm decides to expand or buy new equipment only if it can see a demand for the resulting increased output of goods. As long as many companies already have excess capacity, the urge to spend may be weak for a while. If conditions were different, if demand were strong the same firms might borrow to expand, with or without a tax cut.

Business also has a close interest in the proposed $11-billion cut in collections of individual income taxes by trimming the rates. If everyone spent all this money as soon as it was added to take-home pay, business would stand to profit handsomely. But like business firms, individuals can fall to increase spending just because the paycheck goes up.

Many have already satisfied the desire for big ticket items which sparked most of the postwar years. Many are saving for the education of the huge numbers of children approaching high school and college age. Others have taken on debts in recent years they'd like to reduce.

And a final, but not necessarily least, misgiving that many financial and industrial leaders have toward the President's program is that it isn't tied to a cut in government spending.

For the beginners (and those who have failed to keep up their oral exercises in this form of non-communication), here are a few everyday examples of double-talk—plus their literal translations.

"We thought our daughter would feel more at home in a small community college." (The admissions people at Vassar, Radcliffe, Bryn Mawr, Wellesley and Smith thought so, too.)

"Maude is one woman who does not mind telling her age." (Not that it, since she quit having birthdays 10 years ago.)

"Gee, boss, I'll never be able to understand where you get all your ideas." (You must be stealing them from somebody besides me.)

"Come right in, Joe. Long time no see." (I warned the receptionist to tell this guy I was away on a three-month trip.)

"I think you'll enjoy the corned beef, sir, it's our chef's special for today." (It didn't go very well yesterday or the day before.)

"Frankly, Jim, if you hadn't told me, I wouldn't even have known you had new dentures. (I thought all the members of your family sounded like that when they chewed celery.)"

"Your husband is so witty, Frances! Really, he should be on the stage." (Or is scaffold the word I'm groping for?)

"That child of yours is as smart as a tack." (And I'd like to be the first to put a hammer to him!)

"I insist pal, this one's on me." (Then you get the next one, old buddy, after the rest of the crowd arrives.)

"I'm sorry I can't tonight George, but I could go out with you Friday." (You do get paid on Fridays, don't you?)

"What kind of a woman do you think would marry you merely for your money?" (My kind!)

"Stick with me, kid, and you'll always travel first class." (After all, there's only one fare on the subway.)

"Well, congressman, glad you got re-elected. Good to see you back again. Washington wouldn't be the same without you." (I'll think of his name in just a minute.)

British Liberal in U.S.

By John Chamberlain

Floating around the eastern part of the United States these days is a tall, attractive Englishman named Joseph — or Jo (without an "w" on the end of it) — Grimond. He is the leader of the British Liberal Party, which is making something of a comeback in its home isle after long years spent in the wilderness.

Grimond appeared at Yale University last week as a Chubb Fellow, thus joining ex-President Truman, ex-Attorney General Herbert Brownell, and Senator Barry Goldwater in a list of luminaries who have been reckoned sufficiently important to be invited to spend several days talking to undergraduates about the great world of politics. This week Grimond is scheduled to appear in Washington for a meeting with President Kennedy.

The English Liberal leader had much to say to the Yale boys about the desirability of British participation in the European Common Market. But what interested me particularly about his conversation was his analysis of social forces which points to the possible decline and break-up of the Labour Party in England. The same forces are at work today in America, eroding the power base that once threatened to put Washington, D.C., under the control of industrial unions whose leadership has cared little for the perpetuation of a freely competitive economic system.

In Britain, the evangelistic fervor of the middle Nineteen Forties seems to have gone out of the Labour Party. The party intellectuals, headed by Hugh Gaitskell, do not speak the language of the trade union wing. As the lure of nationalized industries loses its glitter, no longer serving as an issue to bind trade unionists and intellectuals, a middle class "swing vote" has deserted Labour for the Conservatives.

But if Mr. Grimond is right, this swing vote cannot really feel at home in the Conservative Party of dukes and landed gentry and believers in the old-style British imperial mission. Grimond makes the point that his Liberal Party stands for the right to own property. But he speaks for a new order of propertied people the young technicians of industry who own somewhat Americanized homes complete with refrigerators, washing machines, television sets and at least one car standing outside at the curb. Grimond is making his appeal to members of the newly affluent classes who wish to see British industry delivered from the toils of government bureaucracy on the one hand, and the old system of cartelized monopoly on the other.

He spoke last week of efforts to spread the ownership of voting stock in British corporations, possibly by giving tax concessions to businesses which sell shares on a preferential basis to their own employees.

If the Conservative Party fails to hold the young defectors from the Gaitskell wing of the Labour Party, the Liberal Party might suddenly re-emerge as the second party in British politics. At the very least it may aspire to become a balance-of-power group with sufficient representation in Parliament to force significant compromises on both the Conservative majority and the Aaloyal opposition" as symbolized by Labour's Hugh Gaitskell.

The revivification of British Liberalism, which is something quite distant from the collectivist liberalism of those Americans who would be called Socialists if they lived in England, is part of a world phenomenon. On the continent of Europe this phenomenon has resulted in the decline of the old Marxist parties. In Germany, the new realignment of forces has compelled the old Social Democratic Party to repudiate Marx's insistence on government ownership of the means of production.

In the United States the emergence of young families with a property stake in society that is far more widely diffused than was the case in the Nineteen Thirties is making trouble for Republicans and Democrats alike. The young, whose parents were Rooseveltians, do not feel comfortable under the Republican label. But they do not want to be run by a coalition consisting of Walter Reuther and the left-wing Farmers Union. So they back and fill, electing Eisenhower at one time, and defeating Richard Nixon by a hair's breadth at another.

Maybe, if Grimond stresses the portent to President Kennedy of the Liberal Party as related to the English scene, he will, by force of the unspoken analogy, point the way to a Presidential reconsideration of the Democratic Party's power base.

Science Teachers To Honor Pupils

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Science teachers around the state are planning a two-day program in Columbus next month to honor, encourage and educate outstanding high school science students.

The Ohio Science Education Association, a branch of the Ohio Education Association with a membership of more than 600 science teachers, is attempting the program on a statewide basis for the first time Feb. 22-23, President A. F. Foranice of Cincinnati said.

Dear Doctor: I've been told that electric blankets are bad for old people; that they warm the legs, increasing the need for more blood than sluggish circulation can supply.

Any truth?
Mrs. A. B. (Minn.)

Dear Mrs. B: No. Woolen blankets can heat you just as much. Electric blankets radiate less heat per square foot than heating pads. Heating pads warm body tissue; electric blankets merely preserve normal warmth by insulating you from cold room air.

If the heat under the blanket even approached body temperature (98 degrees), you'd begin to sweat uncomfortably!

Dear Doctor: I have spells where I smell an offensive odor but nobody else does. The aroma isn't always the same.

Could hardening of the arteries cause this?

Mrs. C. O. (Pa.)
Dear Mrs. O: Yes. Poor circulation sometimes whips brain cells into furious uncontrolled activity. Shakes and spasms start when the affected brain cells control muscle action.

Other cells make you see, hear, feel, taste or smell something that isn't there.

Epilepsy medicines may be the perfect air freshener for you. Ask your doctor.

Dear Doctor: Can anything cure dandruff?

Mrs. C. S. (N. H.)
Dear Mrs. S: Some dandruff is normal; don't get caught in the old skin game trying to cure this. Troublesome dandruff stems from excess scaling and dried scalp oil, perspiration, tonics and sprays. Ask your doctor about a prescription for Selsun-R and shampoo twice weekly.

First rub in and rinse off a mild shampoo like Dial-R; repeat, using Selsun-R; repeat again, but allow Selsun-R to soak in 5 minutes before rinsing.

Dear Doctor: After a "mother patch", my rash burst into red, flat spots on trunk and neck. What causes this old-fashioned rash with a long-for-gotten name?

Mrs. M. D. (Texas)
Dear Mrs. D: Four out of five victims recover completely. Meanwhile, adhesive tape splints and wire gadgets reduce the Bell's toll by keeping paralyzed face muscles from overstretching.

After 6 to 12 months, chances for recovery shrink and it's time to consult a plastic surgeon.

More Imported Corks, Fewer Spuds What Country Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—What this country needs is more imported cork stoppers, fewer imported potatoes, a national lottery, and a balanced budget.

It could also use a department of uriculture, vitamin A in its nonfat dry milk, colored post cards, more three-day weekends, a new version of the Star-Spangled Banner, and Grandmother's Day.

These, at least are gaps in the national scene noted by members of the House of Representatives who have rushed to fill them in the opening moments of the 88th Congress.

Although the House has been in session only about six hours, some 2,000 bills have already been introduced. They deal with almost every subject imaginable, including using Social Security records to locate runaway parents.

This is a suggestion of Rep. Abraham J. Multer, D-N.Y., who could function pretty well as a one-man legislature. He already has 173 bills in.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., would like more holidays to fall on Monday and has a bill making that the official day for observing Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans Day.

Besides Grandmother's Day, there are those who think we should observe Shut-In Day, Purple Heart Day, Children's Day, Food Service Week, Senior Citizens Month and Welded Products Month.

Rep. Lindley Beckworth, D-Tex., is fearful the new higher postal rates will prevent elderly pensioners from communicating with their families. He is seeking a colored penny postcard for strictly personal messages.

There are bills to help Indians artists, nurses, ducks, veterans, page boys. Bills to get the United States out of the United Nations and retire the national debt.

And there is a measure by Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R-Wis. All he would like is a little national recognition for the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, Wis.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The President's tax package offers just what many business leaders and organizations have been asking. Whether Congress will give it to them is another matter. And whether it will work as tax-cutting advocates hope is still another.

What President Kennedy proposed in his State of the Union message is a cutback in corporate income tax rates to the 47 per cent of pre-Korean War years and a trimming of the top bracket of individual income rates to 65 per cent from the present 91 per cent. The top levy hits very few taxpayers but presumably hobbles big investors.

Many businessmen see a catch in all this. The President proposes at the same time to close loopholes and broaden the base of taxation, to bring in about $3.5 billion a year. The catch is that some companies and industries might end up paying more to the Treasury than they do now. Some of these treasured loopholes are pretty big.

The President says the corporate rate cut should save business $2.5 billion a year. Along with the $2 billion which could be saved if all take advantage of recent changes in depreciation allowances and investment credits, this figures out to $4.5 billion a year relief for business. The President hopes and expects that this sum would be spent in modernization and expansion of the nation's industrial plant.

But here, too, there could be a catch. A firm decides to expand or buy new equipment only if it can see a demand for the resulting increased output of goods. As long as many companies already have excess capacity, the urge to spend may be weak for a while. If conditions were different, if demand were strong the same firms might borrow to expand, with or without a tax cut.

Business also has a close interest in the proposed $11-billion cut in collections of individual income taxes by trimming the rates. If everyone spent all this money as soon as it was added to take-home pay, business would stand to profit handsomely. But like business firms, individuals can fail to increase spending just because the paycheck goes up.

Many have already satisfied the desire for big ticket items which sparked most of the postwar years. Many are saving for the education of the huge numbers of children approaching high school and college age. Others have taken on debts in recent years they'd like to reduce.

And a final, but not necessarily least, misgiving that many financial and industrial leaders have toward the President's program is that it isn't tied to a cut in government spending.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Don't Cry 'Foul,' Honey!

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend's coach is ruining my love life. He lined up all the boys on the basketball team and made them take a pledge. "NO SMOKING, NO DRINKING AND NO GIRLS." Abby, does a coach have the right to do this?

I used to see Tom every night, but since he took the pledge I'm lucky to see him on Saturday night until midnight. Tom is a good athlete and I am proud of him, but I might just as well not have a boy friend as one who has to go to sleep with the chickens. What does a girl do in case like that?

BASKETBALL WIDOW
DEAR WIDOW: Tom sounds like a good egg even if he does go to sleep with the chickens. Be a available. If you grumble, Tom might suggest a substitute who didn't make the team.

Ashville GC Conducts Plant Exchange

A plant exchange was held when members of the Ashville Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Warner Hedges with Miss Florence Brown as hostess.

Mrs. Helen Hedges led the collect and the pledge of allegiance to the flag was repeated by all. Many good resolutions were given in response to roll call.

Reports were given of the Regional Meeting District 9 held in Lancaster and the Pickaway County Council of Garden Clubs meeting held in Ashville.

Mrs. Page Boyer, regional director of District 9, Chillicothe, gave a very interesting talk on old roses.

Mrs. Ann Hedges, vice president, presided in the absence of Miss Kathryn Decker, president.

Fourteen members and two guests were present.

The Feb. meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Richard Hedges.

DESERT SONG—This new John Fredericks headgear shown in New York seems to be a kind of "Desert Song," complete with sun spots. The cloche is of white dotted silk organza with separate scarf draped over an agal of black taffeta.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has been married for three months to a man who doesn't say one word more to her father or me than he absolutely has to. If I say, "How are you?" he replies, "Fine." (Not even, "Fine, thank you, how are you?") He is not ignorant. He went through college on scholarships and is considered a mathematical genius. We are always friendly to him. He told my daughter he doesn't care about anyone else — only her. Do you call that intelligence? We are respectable people. What is the matter with him?

DEAR BAFFLED: Your son-in-law may be an educated misanthrope. He has much to learn about manners. Warn your daughter that her husband's antisocial behavior could lead her happy marriage into a vacuum. And "genius" alone cannot overcome loneliness.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of a man and wife who send out Christmas cards from "Mr. and Mrs. So and So and son." Their son is 49 years old!

GOT ONE
DEAR GOT: It seems to me that the son is old enough to send his own. However—what's the difference either to you or me?

DEAR ABBY: Do a couple of million people a favor and ask them to get into their cars on a dark, rainy night and drive by their OWN homes to see if they can read their own house numbers. You wouldn't believe the number of houses that haven't a clue (that can be seen from the street) as to what the house number is.

 What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

9,000 Tax Delinquency Cases Filed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A crack-down on delinquent taxpayers resulted in filing of a record-breaking 9,000 cases last year to collect revenue claimed by the government, the Justice Department reported today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Louis F. Oberdorfer, head of the department's tax division, said more than $700 million was involved in tax division cases pending at the end of 1962.

The number of new cases, compared with the previous high of 7,500 in 1961, was one of the highlights of Oberdorfer's report to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Kennedy said the work of the tax division is a key factor in the department campaign against organized crime and racketeering.

Many of the year's 330 criminal tax fraud convictions, the report said, involved false income tax returns by hoodlums, officials of state and local governments and labor racketeers. There were about 300 such convictions in the preceding year.

City Jaycees Join to Observe 48th Year of Organization

Next week the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce will join more than 4,000 other chapters throughout the nation in observing the 48th anniversary of the organization.

Henry Geissenbier, a young businessman in St. Louis, first got the idea of a young man's organization to help out in civic affairs. Through the help of St. Louis' Chamber of Commerce president, the idea survived.

Today more than 200,000 young men are actively working to support their communities and are assisting in activities for local civic betterment.

The idea not only swept across the nation, but also across the world. The Jaycee movement has reached 80 nations and territories and has an international membership of 360,000.

YOUNG MEN 21 to 36 are eligible to join. Although the organization was formed for civic improvement, Jaycee members work on the theory that in helping a community, they are helping themselves.

A Jaycee chapter was started in Circleville in 1947. Since then, the group has participated in hundreds of activities helpful to the city. Local projects include:

Building Ted Lewis Park grandstands, donating to the construction of Fairground grandstands set up, Santa Parade and Santa headquarters, sponsor teen-age rodeo (promote safe driving for teen-agers), assisted with Sabin on Sunday, donated flags to the city, sponsor Little Miss Pumpkin Show Parade, sponsor Little League Baseball team, presenting the Distinguished Service and Ohio's Young Farmer awards, presenting award to high school student who excels in the field of industrial arts, and sponsor Junior Gold Program. These are but a few of the projects conducted by the Circleville Jaycees during the last few years.

Jaycee Week was instigated to help the public understand who the Jaycees are and what they are doing. The organization's national headquarters is in Tulsa, Okla. The international headquarters is in Miami, Fla.

Local officers are Jack Alkire, Richard Fullen, John Hill, Charles Allton and David Lovett.

Firm Fires 22 For Union Boycott

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Douglas Aircraft Co. says it has fired 22 employees who refused to join a labor union or pay the equivalent of union dues under an agency shop agreement.

The firm said Monday it was acting under terms of a contract with the AFL-CIO Machinists Union and the United Auto-Aerospace Workers.

Douglas estimated 20 to 30 per cent of eligible employees are paying an agency shop fee of about $5 monthly instead of joining the union. Under the contract, employees must do one or the other or be discharged.

35-Hour Week Remains Goal of AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Organized labor says it will continue to press for the 35-hour work week, despite President Kennedy's new plea against it, so long as unemployment remains high.

That is the answer given by AFL-CIO President George Meany to Kennedy's comment, in his State of the Union message Monday, that cutting the present standard 40-hour week to a 35-hour week would restrict instead of help the economy.

Kennedy said the shorter week could boost hourly labor costs as much as 14 per cent, start a new wage-price inflationary spiral and "undercut our efforts to compete with other nations' in foreign trade.

Meany responded with a statement saying Kennedy's economic goals—to achieve a higher rate of economic growth and full employment—are exactly what the AFL-CIO also wants.

"That is what we want," Meany said. "If we can achieve a full employment economy at 40 hours a week, there will be no happier Americans than the workers who are members of AFL-CIO unions. "But what we want is jobs. Aspirations are not a substitute for action. Unless and until this nation makes a substantial dent in its long-standing unemployment, we must and will continue to press for a 35-hour week."

9,000 Tax Delinquency Cases Filed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A crack-down on delinquent taxpayers resulted in filing of a record-breaking 9,000 cases last year to collect revenue claimed by the government, the Justice Department reported today.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Louis F. Oberdorfer, head of the department's tax division, said more than $700 million was involved in tax division cases pending at the end of 1962.

The number of new cases, compared with the previous high of 7,500 in 1961, was one of the highlights of Oberdorfer's report to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Kennedy said the work of the tax division is a key factor in the department campaign against organized crime and racketeering.

Many of the year's 330 criminal tax fraud convictions, the report said, involved false income tax returns by hoodlums, officials of state and local governments and labor racketeers. There were about 300 such convictions in the preceding year.

City Jaycees Join to Observe 48th Year of Organization

Next week the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce will join more than 4,000 other chapters throughout the nation in observing the 48th anniversary of the organization.

Henry Geissenbier, a young businessman in St. Louis, first got the idea of a young man's organization to help out in civic affairs. Through the help of St. Louis' Chamber of Commerce president, the idea survived.

Today more than 200,000 young men are actively working to support their communities and are assisting in activities for local civic betterment.

The idea not only swept across the nation, but also across the world. The Jaycee movement has reached 80 nations and territories and has an international membership of 360,000. ***

YOUNG MEN 21 to 36 are eligible to join. Although the organization was formed for civic improvement, Jaycee members work on the theory that in helping a community, they are helping themselves.

A Jaycee chapter was started in Circleville in 1947. Since then, the group has participated in hundreds of activities helpful to the city. Local projects include:

British Push For Common Mart Berth

French Hostility Opposed by Belgium, West Germany

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced it will push ahead for admission into the European Common Market despite French hostility, and won open support from West Germany and Belgium.

Italy and Holland gave implied backing to the British bid for membership.

Only Luxembourg remained silent publicly in the six-nation economic-political bloc.

The Foreign Office, with the authority of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Cabinet, said Britain intends to keep trying to get into the market.

At the same time the Foreign Office expressed hope France will have second thoughts about its rejection of American Polaris missiles.

President Charles de Gaulle's rejection of the Polaris missile offer and his tough stand on Britain's entry into the Common Market were widely viewed in Europe as a double blow at the Western Alliance.

Pending a full Cabinet discussion of the crisis that has arisen in the wake of De Gaulle's declaration Monday, the comments of the Foreign Office were restrained.

However, on the specific question of De Gaulle's rejection of the Nassau agreement between President Kennedy and Macmillan—to promote a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear force—a Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference:

"President De Gaulle was clearly referring to the Nassau agreement entirely from the French point of view.

"We ourselves regard it as a constructive contribution to the indivisible defense of the Western Alliance and we would hope that other members of the Alliance would so regard it.

"The NATO nuclear force is under discussion between all the NATO allies and we would hope that France herself would one day have second thoughts."

West Germany also broke with De Gaulle on the question of admitting Britain to the Common Market. De Gaulle suggested that Britain should seek an associate membership. In Brussels, where negotiations are in progress, a West German spokesman rejected this idea.

"Association for such an important partner as Britain is no solution," said Hans Joachim Hiller, who stressed he was speaking for Gerhard Schroeder, the Foreign minister. "Only as a full member can Great Britain cooperate in the political aims of the European Economic Community."

Turnpike Aide Gets Securities Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Turnpike Commissioner Ralph A. Winter, former chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, is the new chief of the state securities division.

Warren H. Chase, director of the Commerce Department, of which securities is a division, also named John Maxwell of Cleveland to head the division of savings and loan associations, and attorney Gordon Peltier of Columbus as assistant department director.

Winter, 56, is from Lodi. He succeeds W. Patrick Green. Maxwell, also an attorney, succeeds Andrew W. Putka of Cleveland. The assistant director's post was held by E. P. O'Grady until he was named director late last year.

Municipal Court Experiences One of Busiest Years in 1962

The ninth annual report of Circleville Municipal Court, prepared by Judge Sterling M. Lamb and his staff, lists total gross receipts of $81,375.65 for 1962.

The court experienced one of its busiest years since formation of the legal branch Jan. 1954. A total of 2,818 criminal cases and 168 civil actions were filed during 1962.

This exceeds the 1961 docket by 251 criminal and 10 civil cases. The majority of the criminal cases were traffic violations.

The number of criminal cases concluded was 2,773, while 112 civil cases were completed.

ANOTHER little publicized duty of the court is to perform marriages. During the year 10 couples were united by Judge Lamb.

Court was in session 301½ days, exceeding the number of days required by law by 61½.

A comparison with the 1961 reports shows that gross receipts of the court were increased by $1,636.66.

Total gross disbursements to the city of Circleville during the year were $49,570.26, compared to a total of $48,412.83 in 1961. Net disbursements to the city in 1962 were $31,135.63 and $29,001.22 in 1961.

Major disbursements made by the court other than to the city included:

Treasurer of the state of Ohio, $16,798.85 (45 per cent of the State Highway Patrol fines); Pickaway County, $10,316.12; Pickaway County Law Library Association, $4,000; state department of conservation, $248; Sheriff of Pickaway county, $222; subpoena fees and refunds $94.61.

EXPENSES vouchered to the city auditor during the year were $18,434.57. The largest single expense was the city's share of the total salaries paid.

The salary of the judge is $8,575.65, acting judges were paid $786.06, the clerk received $3,780, deputy clerks, $3,248.16 and the bailiff, $2,580. The city's share of the salaries was $12,681.19 and the county's share was $6,288.69. In addition to his salary, the court bailiff received $1,082.40 for mileage.

The sheriff's department was paid $2,644.50 for boarding court prisoners during the year.

Since 1954 total gross receipts for criminal and civil cases stand at $605,447.83.

The city of Circleville has received a net of $196,320.08 for an average net per year of $21,813.35.

A total of 21,549 criminal cases have been filed and 21,246 cases have been concluded. During the nine-year period, 1,176 civil cases have been filed and 1,067 have been concluded.

THE COURT has married a total of 102 persons during the period.

Money paid to the sheriff for boarding prisoners convicted of violations of the criminal sections of the code of ordinances of the city of Circleville totals $35,163.50.

Lady Naval Officer Proud Of Her Solo Sea Duty Stint

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The newest member of the Navy recruiting office here probably has the wrong job. Lt. Charlene Suneson is the Wave Officer Procurement Officer but it takes only one look to know she could interest far more males in a life at sea.

The attractive brunette arrived here last Friday after being a Wave first—the first Wave ever to serve as a line officer aboard a ship.

"I spent a year aboard the transport General Mann in the Pacific and it's something I would enjoy doing again if I could," Lt. Suneson said.

"But I know I probably won't be able to because of Navy regulations," she added. "In the Navy we can't serve on any job twice. And according to regulations Waves can only serve on transport or hospital ships and since I'm not qualified for a hospital ship, I just don't feel I'll get the chance again."

The Navy also said they doubted whether Miss Suneson or any other Wave officer would get a similar chance. A spokesman in San Francisco said that although Miss Suneson performed very well "there are no further plans to give sea duty to Wave officers."

The 28-year-old native of Chicago said she had no problems aboard the big transport. "I was the officer in charge of the cabin in space and in general made sure the passengers in my area were all right. I had to check their immigration papers and all the other administrative matters," she explained.

The ship had a crew of about 400 and had cabin space for 365 military dependents and a troop carrying capacity of about 2,200.

Now in her ninth year in the Navy, the lieutenant said she had always wanted the sea duty and "I guess I got it because I made the most noise," she laughed. "I was stationed in San Diego and everytime someone was going to Washington I'd have them deliver another letter."

"I loved every minute of it and I still can't get it out of my head that I can't go shopping in Japan or the Philippines or Honolulu."

"I still catch myself going through magazines looking for dresses to clip out and have made on my next stop in Japan. I could have a beautiful silk dress made for about $25 in Japan and I guess it would have cost $125 here."

Although the Navy says it has no present plans for putting another Wave to sea, Miss Suneson says she doesn't think she will be the only one of her kind.

"There are so many applications now for sea duty and I personally think more will get it. I don't think I caused any problems and I certainly would like to do it over again."

U.S.-Russian Test Accord Said in Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Russian agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests "now appears to be within reach," says U.S. disarmament director William C. Foster.

If the Soviet Union adopts "a more flexible attitude," he said, "ways can certainly be found" to negotiate the deadlocked inspection issue.

Foster's remarks came during a national educational television program, "State Department Briefing," where he discussed disarmament questions with Arthur H. Dean, a former U.S. disarmament negotiator, and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric. The program was recorded last week and broadcast Monday night.

For his part Dean was not as optimistic as Foster. He said that even in the discussion of general disarmament problems, the Russians "are unwilling to admit the quite obvious necessity for effective inspection."

He thought the outlook for substantial disarmament progress to be rather bleak.

Foster, chief of the U.S. Disarmament and Arms Control Agency is now conferring with Soviet representatives to see whether a test ban agreement can be worked out. The chief issue in the way is Soviet refusal to let in foreign inspection teams as a precaution against underground tests.

Hamilton County Plan For Route 71 Is OK'd

CINCINNATI (AP) — Present plans call for completing the Northeast Expressway — the section of Interstate 71 in Hamilton County—by late 1965.

City Manager C. A. Harrell said Tuesday night that a decision by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads that the air space above the expressway belongs to Cincinnati and not to the state of Ohio cleared another obstacle from the road-building.

Sheriff, Postal Aides Probe Clermont Theft

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies and postal officials are investigating the theft of a safe containing more than $5,000 from Dick & Ray's General Store in nearby Perinton. Clermont County deputies said the store, which serves as the community's post office, was broken into Monday night or early Tuesday.

British Push For Common Mart Berth

French Hostility Opposed by Belgium, West Germany

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced it will push ahead for admission into the European Common Market despite French hostility, and won open support from West Germany and Belgium.

Italy and Holland gave implied backing to the British bid for membership.

Only Luxembourg remained silent publicly in the six-nation economic-political bloc.

The Foreign Office, with the authority of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Cabinet, said Britain intends to keep trying to get into the market.

At the same time the Foreign Office expressed hope France will have second thoughts about its rejection of American Polaris missiles.

President Charles de Gaulle's rejection of the Polaris missile offer and his tough stand on Britain's entry into the Common Market were widely viewed in Europe as a double blow at the Western Alliance.

Pending a full Cabinet discussion of the crisis that has arisen in the wake of De Gaulle's declaration Monday, the comments of the Foreign Office were restrained.

However, on the specific question of De Gaulle's rejection of the Nassau agreement between President Kennedy and Macmillan—to promote a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear force—a Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference:

"President De Gaulle was clearly referring to the Nassau agreement entirely from the French point of view.

"We ourselves regard it as a constructive contribution to the indivisible defense of the Western Alliance and we would hope that other members of the Alliance would so regard it.

"The NATO nuclear force is under discussion between all the NATO allies and we would hope that France herself would one day have second thoughts."

West Germany also broke with De Gaulle on the question of admitting Britain to the Common Market. De Gaulle suggested that Britain should seek an associate membership. In Brussels, where negotiations are in progress, a West German spokesman rejected this idea.

"Association for such an important partner as Britain is no solution," said Hans Joachim Hiller, who stressed he was speaking for Gerhard Schroeder, the Foreign minister. "Only as a full member can Great Britain cooperate in the political aims of the European Economic Community."

Turnpike Aide Gets Securities Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Turnpike Commissioner Ralph A. Winter, former chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, is the new chief of the state securities division.

Warren H. Chase, director of the Commerce Department, of which securities is a division, also named John Maxwell of Cleveland to head the division of savings and loan associations, and attorney Gordon Peltier of Columbus as assistant department director.

Winter, 56, is from Lodi. He succeeds W. Patrick Green. Maxwell, also an attorney, succeeds Andrew W. Putka of Cleveland. The assistant director's post was held by E. P. O'Grady until he was named director late last year.

Municipal Court Experiences One of Busiest Years in 1962

The ninth annual report of Circleville Municipal Court, prepared by Judge Sterling M. Lamb and his staff, lists total gross receipts of $81,375.65 for 1962.

The Court experienced one of its busiest years since formation of the legal branch Jan. 1954. A total of 2,818 criminal cases and 168 civil actions were filed during 1962.

This exceeds the 1961 docket by 251 criminal and 10 civil cases. The majority of the criminal cases were traffic violations.

The number of criminal cases concluded was 2,773, while 112 civil cases were completed.

ANOTHER little publicized duty of the court is to perform marriages. During the year 10 couples were united by Judge Lamb.

Court was in session 301½ days, exceeding the number of days required by law by 61½.

A comparison with the 1961 reports shows that gross receipts of the court were increased by $1,636.66.

Total gross disbursements to the city of Circleville during the year were $49,570.20, compared to a total of $48,412.83 in 1961. Net disbursements to the city in 1962 were $31,135.63 and $29,001.22 in 1961.

Major disbursements made by the court other than to the city included:

Treasurer of the state of Ohio, $16,798.85 (45 per cent of the State Highway Patrol fines); Pickaway County, $10,316.12; Pickaway County Law Library Association, $4,000; state department of conservation, $248; Sheriff of Pickaway county, $222; subpoena fees and refunds $34.61.

EXPENSES vouchered to the city auditor during the year were $18,434.57. The largest single expense was the city's share of the total salaries paid.

The salary of the judge is $8,575.65, acting judges were paid $786.06, the clerk received $3,780, deputy clerks, $3,248.16 and the bailiff, $2,580. The city's share of the salaries was $12,681.19 and the county's share was $6,288.69. In addition to his salary, the court bailiff received $1,062.40 for mileage.

The sheriff's department was paid $2,644.50 for boarding court prisoners during the year.

Since 1954 total gross receipts for criminal and civil cases stand at $605,447.83.

The city of Circleville has received a net of $196,320.08 for an average net per year of $21,813.35.

A total of 21,549 criminal cases have been filed and 21,246 cases have been concluded. During the nine-year period, 1,176 civil cases have been filed and 1,067 have been concluded.

THE COURT has married a total of 102 persons during the period.

Money paid to the sheriff for boarding prisoners convicted of violations of the criminal sections of the code of ordinances of the city of Circleville totals $35,163.50.

Lady Naval Officer Proud Of Her Solo Sea Duty Stint

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The newest member of the Navy recruiting office here probably has the wrong job. Lt. Charlene Suneson is the Wave Officer Procurement Officer but it takes only one look to know she could interest far more males in a life at sea.

The attractive brunette arrived here last Friday after being a Wave first—the first Wave ever to serve as a line officer aboard a ship.

"I spent a year aboard the transport General Mann in the Pacific and it's something I would enjoy doing again if I could," Lt. Suneson said.

"But I know I probably won't be able to because of Navy regulations," she added. "In the Navy we can't serve on any job twice. And according to regulations Waves can only serve on transport or hospital ships and since I'm not qualified for a hospital ship, I just don't feel I'll get the chance again."

The Navy also said they doubted whether Miss Suneson or any other Wave officer would get a similar chance. A spokesman in San Francisco said that although Miss Suneson performed very well "there are no further plans to give sea duty to Wave officers."

The 28-year-old native of Chicago said she had no problems aboard the big transport. "I was the officer in charge of the cabin space and in general made sure the passengers in my area were all right. I had to check their immigration papers and all the other administrative matters," she explained.

The ship had a crew of about 400 and had cabin space for 365 military dependents and a troop carrying capacity of about 2,200.

Now in her ninth year in the Navy, the lieutenant said she had always wanted the sea duty and "I guess I got it because I made the most noise," she laughed. "I was stationed in San Diego and everytime someone was going to Washington I'd have them deliver another letter."

"I loved every minute of it and I still can't get it out of my head that I can't go shopping in Japan or the Philippines or Honolulu. "I still catch myself going through magazines looking for dresses to clip out and have made on my next stop in Japan. I could have a beautiful silk dress made for about $25 in Japan and I guess it would have cost $125 here."

Although the Navy says it has no present plans for putting another Wave to sea, Miss Suneson says she doesn't think she will be the only one of her kind.

"There are so many applications now for sea duty and I personally think more will get it. I don't think I caused any problems and I certainly would like to do it over again."

U.S.-Russian Test Accord Said in Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Russian agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests "now appears to be within reach," says U.S. disarmament director William C. Foster.

If the Soviet Union adopts "a more flexible attitude," he said, "ways can certainly be found" to negotiate the deadlocked inspection issue.

Foster's remarks came during a national educational television program, "State Department Briefing," where he discussed disarmament questions with Arthur H. Dean, a former U.S. disarmament negotiator, and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilatic. The program was recorded last week and broadcast Monday night.

For his part Dean was not as optimistic as Foster. He said that even in the discussion of general disarmament problems, the Russians "are unwilling to admit the quite obvious necessity for effective inspection."

He thought the outlook for substantial disarmament progress to be rather bleak.

Foster, chief of the U.S. Disarmament and Arms Control Agency is now conferring with Soviet representatives to see whether a test ban agreement can be worked out. The chief issue in the way is Soviet refusal to let in foreign inspection teams as a precaution against underground tests.

Hamilton County Plan For Route 71 Is OK'd

CINCINNATI (AP) — Present plans call for completing the Northeast Expressway — the section of Interstate 71 in Hamilton County—by late 1965.

City Manager C. A. Harrell said Tuesday night that a decision by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads that the air space above the expressway belongs to Cincinnati and not to the state of Ohio cleared another obstacle from the road-building.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-6111

The January meeting of the Ashville PTA scheduled for this Thursday has been postponed to the following Thursday due to a conflict in scheduling of meetings on the school calendar.

The monthly meeting will be held January 24 at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Michael Allen Cooke, 17-month-old son of A-1c and Mrs. Clyde Cooke died suddenly Tuesday morning at approximately 10 a. m. in his home from an unknown cause. The parents had taken the child Monday evening to a doctor at Lockbourne Air Force Base after becoming ill.

The child was dead Tuesday upon the arrival of the Bastian ambulance and Dr. Robert Slivinski.

The boy was removed to Bastian Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements. The couple is the parents of three other children and the father is stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base. They reside at the rear of 250 Long St., Ashville. Cooke, at present, is serving as cub master of the Ashville Cub Scout Troop.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Cromley, Route 2, Ashville, left Thursday, for a three weeks stay in Florida.

4 AWOL GIs Face Longer Brig Terms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four Ohio GIs face a much longer stretch in prisoner's garb than the time they were doing for absence without leave—and in exchange for their bleak prospect, they enjoyed only a day or two of shaky freedom.

Army authorities, including Capt. John L. Otenberger, provost marshal at Ft. Hayes here, and the Ohio Highway Patrol completed rounding up the foursome with two arrests near Carey and Fostoria in Northwest Ohio Tuesday.

The other two were nabbed in Columbus Monday night.

Back in custody after overpowering a guard and escaping the stockade at Ft. Knox, Ky., Sunday were Pvt. Ray D. Jackson, 23, of Carey; Adam J. Marshall, 18, of Fostoria; and Raymond F. Garrett, 19, and David L. Chase, 20, both of Columbus.

All were caught in or near their home towns. A tip led to Garrett and Chase, together in a house here. Description of the car he was driving helped in Jackson's capture, and Marshall was apprehended shortly after Jackson.

The escapees took four .45 caliber automatics and a .38 caliber gun. But none of the foursome was reported to have resisted arrest.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was almost like a return to normal, after being away for a while, when French President Charles de Gaulle rebuffed both the United States and Britain this week.

Springfield Jail Death Under Probe

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—An autopsy was scheduled today to determine how Charles Robert Paige, 41 of Springfield died in Clark County Jail a day after the murder case defendant was returned from Lima State Hospital.

Paige's attorney reported him ill Tuesday shortly before he was scheduled for a sanity hearing. After the trip Paige was to have taken to Springfield City Hospital was delayed, a deputy found him dead in his cell.

Paige, who had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity in the Nov. 11, 1962, slaying of his former wife, Willa, was declared insane at Lima.

Shortly before the scheduled time of the sanity hearing before Clark County Common Pleas Court Judge Ben Goldman Tuesday afternoon, Paige's attorney conferred with the judge and Prosecutor James Berry. The lawyer, Eugene A. Nevius, said he had just visited Paige and found him too ill to appear in court. The judge postponed the hearing to Jan. 28.

Deputy Robert Jones went to Paige's cell to inform him of this and found the prisoner dead.

Ohio University at Athens released 25 employees, primarily secretaries and cooks.

This was a switch and, for the Allies, a wonderful way to start the new year. They were sitting back and enjoying it, most of them seemed relaxed.

It was a heart-warming Kennedy message, too, for those who longed for Allied brotherliness and would have been content to let the Communists monopolize both harshness and disunity.

The message had been written and distributed, although not delivered, before De Gaulle messed things up.

Improper Use of Tweezers Blamed in Jetliner Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—A short circuit—caused by the improper use of tweezers in binding up wires—was the most likely abnormality that sent a jet and 95 persons to their doom last March, the Civil Aeronautics Board says.

The American Airlines plane plunged into Jamaica Bay shortly after take off from New York's Idlewild International Airport.

The CAB report said the wires, part of the automatic pilot system, lead to the rudder boost control mechanism—called the rudder servo.

Federal Aviation Agency inspectors, the CAB said, determined that the damage was the result of improper use of tweezers in tying wire bundles and backed up the conclusion by finding similarly damaged units in the manufacturer's production line.

The board said that after the difficulty was discovered, the FAA issued an order for inspection of generator motors for damaged wire bundles.

The Bendix Corp., a division of which in Teterboro, N.J., makes the servo control unit, issued a denial that the unit was defective.

The CAB conceded that an FAA theory made public last June—that a small bolt may have dropped out of the automatic control system—was one of several things that could have happened.

Some CAB inspectors became annoyed last summer after an FAA order for correction of the suspected bolt defect became public, and attempted to minimize the likelihood that the bolt was the cause.

In a statement issued in New York, Nilo F. McCammon, general manager of the Bendix division, said the servo unit had passed 61 different inspections at the factory, was inspected by Boeing before installation and was subsequently overhauled and inspected regularly.

Pro Cage Stars To Duel Tonight

West Lineup Brings Hot Objections

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Professional basketball presents its showcase of jewels tonight in the annual East-West All-Star Classic but one of the coaches, Fred Schaus of the West, was confronted with a problem.

The Los Angeles Lakers' pilot planned to start what he and most all cage observers believe would be perhaps the finest five in the history of the National Basketball Association attraction. Schaus named as his starting team Walt Bellamy of Chicago and Bob Pettit of St. Louis as forwards, Will Chamberlain of San Francisco at center and Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles as guards.

It developed that Schaus' ideas met universal applause from all sides except the men who run the Eastern Division.

They contended Bellamy was named by the selectors as a center, behind Wilt (The Stilt); that Baylor is a forward and should start there, and San Francisco's Guy Rodgers should open hostilities at his nominal position, a guard.

Schaus contends that once a squad is selected, he should be permitted to position his players as he pleases. He also thought the fans would appreciate seeing Baylor playing the backcourt against his opposite number, Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals.

It could be also that Schaus feels that Baylor, who is still hampered by a trick knee, might be more valuable at guard than at forward.

The board of directors of the league were scheduled to make a ruling on the controversy sometime today.

The coach of the East, Red Auerbach, meanwhile, decided on his starters—forward Jack Twyman of Cincinnati and Tom Heinsohn of Boston, center Bill Russell of Boston and guards Bob Cousy of Boston and Robertson. Game time is 8:35 p.m. (PST), 11:35 p.m. (EST).

The host Lakers expected a sell-out crowd of about 15,000 in the Sports Arena.

The West is a slight favorite.

Tiger Cagers Chalk 5th Win By Halting Greenfield, 66-51

By STEVE JONES
The Circleville High School basketball team rolled to its fifth win of the season last night, defeating Greenfield McClain, 66-51, in a South Central Ohio League title here.

Good defensive play pulled the Roundtown Tigers through a slow second quarter and was a key factor in the 15-point margin at the end of the game.

The Bengals jumped to an early lead, going out front 16-7 midway through the first period and led 17-12 as the buzzer ended the quarter.

Then for four of the second eight minutes they seemed completely baffled by the McClain full court press and were unable to score.

BOB PURCELL, who replaced Garold Dade at a guard position at the start of the second period, broke the ice for Circleville. By this time the score was 18-17 in favor of Greenfield.

Purcell scored three more points. Dave Hannasch tallied two and Clesson Thomas hit two while Greenfield was scoring eight. At halftime the score was knotted at 26-26.

Circleville, coming back at the start of the second half, scored six points while the visitors were hitting five, and then held Greenfield scoreless while accumulating

Bishop Flaget Trips Wildcats

Laurelville, hitting only 11 per cent from the field the first half, lost to visiting Chillicothe Bishop Flaget 89-44 last night.

The Wildcats could connect on only 16 of 44 attempts from the field during the game while the winners hit a blistering 36 of 60.

From the foul line the host school connected on 12 of 18 attempts. Bishop Flaget cagers hit 17 of 25.

Five members of the visiting team hit double figures in the scoring. Cook led the race with 19, Wyman was credited with 18, Hutt garnered 12 points, Malloy 11 and Mitchell 10.

For Laurelville Gerald Waybright hit six field goals and five charity tosses for 17 points. The next high man for the Wildcats was Dan DeLong with six.

The Hocking County cagers were down 10-3 after the initial eight minutes, trailed 35-14 at halftime and were behind 65-32 as the final period started.

The Bishop Flaget reserves won the preliminary tilt 89-44.

6 Ohio Boys Win All-America Bids

NE WYORK (AP) — Ohio, Pennsylvania and California each placed six players on the 12th annual All-America High School football team announced Tuesday by Scholastic Magazine.

The six Ohioans, among the 85 named to the schoolboy squad, include:

End Dick Himes, Canton; tackle Tony Viertlboeck, Toledo centers Ben Bradley, Massillon, and Jim Louder, Cincinnati, and backs Steward Williams, Sandusky and Harry Wilson, Steubenville.

Farrington Wins Ohio Sully Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The U. S. Trotting Association's District 1 (Ohio) honored Bob Farrington as driver of the year and Coffee Break as Harness horse of the year for 1962 at its annual awards banquet Tuesday night.

Farrington, 33, of Richmond posted 203 dash victories in 1962 to better his own world mark of 201 set a year before.

Coffee Break 3-year-old bay colt by Good Time, paced a mile in 1:57 at Springfield, Ill., for the best time by any harness horse during 1962. He's owned by the C & M stables of Archbold.

16 markers. That was the turning point of the game. During the final quarter the two teams battled on fairly even terms.

The Greenfield offense was built around rugged pivotman, Tom Doyle.

Circleville's defense was designed to do one thing — stop Doyle. Paul Reiss' charges used a collapsing 2-3 zone. At times there seemed to be five men guarding Doyle while the rest of the visiting team was left open. There was just one big crowd under the McClain bucket.

Coaches Rate Smith Top Player Again

Reiss Picks Purcell And Thomas for Extra Recognition

Tom Smith tallied 103 points on the efficiency chart kept by the Tiger coaching staff to top top player honors for the fifth time this season.

Charts kept by the staff grade a player on rebounds, turnovers, controlled jump balls, assists, shooting percentages, personal fouls and recoveries.

Smith, not playing one of his better nights shootingwise, grabbed a total of 16 rebounds to give him a big boost in the rating on the charts.

Bob Purcell was second in the ratings with 60 points. He grabbed five rebounds, was credited with four of nine field goal attempts, had three recoveries.

Tiger Coach Paul Reiss commended Purcell for his good floor game. Also coming in for recognition from the coach was Clesson Thomas.

Thomas was high point man in the game last night with 14 points and had 10 rebounds. He was given a rating of 58 on the efficiency charts. Thomas played a good defensive game according to Reiss.

Bob Waple had 39 and Dave Hannasch was credited with 26 points.

Circleville as a team had 46 rebounds. The charts revealed the Tiger unit had 23 turnovers, 18 coming the first half.

Wichita Loses Shooting Duel With Tulsa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was a few hours later than High Noon, but down in the valley known as the Basketball Badlands, two quick-draw guys matched shot for shot. When it was all over, eighth-ranked Wichita had been knocked off by tenacious Tulsa.

That's the way it went Tuesday night as Wichita's Ernie Moore and Tulsa's Jim King sank key baskets time after time until the Hurricane sharpshooter hit the target twice in succession and dropped Wichita 85-83 in double overtime.

Moore connected for two foul shots with 2 seconds left in regulation time for a 67-67 tie, the first time Wichita had pulled even since the opening seconds. Tulsa built a four-point lead with 50 seconds left in the first overtime before Dave Stallworth and Moore evened it again.

In overtime No. 2, King connected on two layups that gave Tulsa a lead it never relinquished. King finished with 18 points while Moore had 15. The high scorers were Bill Kusleika of Tulsa with 27 and Stallworth with 25.

It was Wichita's second loss in the Missouri Valley Conference, where everyone winds up chasing Cincinnati, and two losses just about tosses out your title chances.

Circleville, as a team, consistently-out-rebounded the visitors.

Thomas, a tower of strength under the boards, was high point man for the winners with 14 markers on six field goals and two charity tosses.

Tom Smith tallied six field goals and one charity toss for 13 points and was very aggressive for Circleville under the boards.

The Tiger scoring was well balanced. Of the players seeing the most action, Bob Waple and Purcell scored nine each, Dade tallied seven and Hannasch had six.

Rounding out the scoring, Dave Bass came up with three points, Doug Dunkle taller two, Johnny Pharr one and Tom Tuttle two.

With about two minutes of playing time remaining, Reiss cleared the bench.

THE FINAL seven points for Circleville came on foul shots. The Tiger tallied 10 points during the final period via the free throw route and good foul shooting throughout the game was a big help. They hit 20 of 33 attempts.

Waple was five-for-five at the charity stripe.

After the game coach Reiss termed the win "strictly a team victory".

He singled Purcell out for praise for his play at guard. Coming in in relief at the end of the first period, the Tiger junior finished the game at that position.

Reiss did note that the Tiger unit will have to perform better Friday when they travel to Pleasant View for another league contest.

Last night's win gives Circleville fourth place in the league with a 3-3 slate. Washington C. H. (4-3) trails Wilmington (6-1) and Miami Trace (5-1).

Hillsboro and Pleasant View are tied for fifth, Greenfield is in seventh and Franklin Heights is the cellar dweller.

THE TIGER reserves won the preliminary game, 46-36, for their eighth win in 10 starts.

The first quarter started as though the junior varsity might come up with another of their patented cliffhangers, but in the second period they built a 23-17 edge.

At the end of the third quarter they had gone ahead, 32-24, and coasted to a win.

Even with the defense stacked against him, Doyle hit seven of 11 field goals and all three charity tosses he attempted for 17 points and game scoring laurels.

Jim Coleman, a 5-9 senior guard, was the only other visitor able to hit with any consistency. He canned five field goals for 10 points.

CIRCLEVILLE, as a team, consistently-out-rebounded the visitors.

Thomas, a tower of strength under the boards, was high point man for the winners with 14 markers on six field goals and two charity tosses.

Tom Smith tallied six field goals and one charity toss for 13 points and was very aggressive for Circleville under the boards.

Big Doug Roth paced the win, hitting five field goals and three charity tosses for 13 points.

John Maxwell scored 10, Chet Iery and Terry Campbell garnered six each and Jack Martin and Jeff Monroe scored two.

High man for the visitors was Ralph Nooks who hit four field goals and five charity tosses.

The Circleville reserves looked a little less ragged with their passing than in some of their past games. John Thomas and Roth controlled the boards well and Iery played his usual good floor game.

Miami Toddlers Smother OU

Sophomore Crew Fouls Standings in Mid-Am

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Shed no more tears for Miami's Redskin cagers.

Coach Dick Shrider's gang of sophomores has come of age ahead of schedule. They dumped Ohio University 56-47 Tuesday night, making the Mid-American Conference basketball race wide open—a muddle with Miami in the middle of the free-for-all for first place.

The 'Skins operate with four sophomores in the starting lineup, and there's not a senior on the varsity roster. The way they're going now, it's bad news for their MAC rivals both now and in future campaigns.

Miami was in sad shape a few weeks ago with a 3-5 record, including a horrendous 86-36 loss at Bowling Green. Since then they've zoomed to 8-6, including a revenge conquest of the Falcons on the friendly Oxford court where they ambushed the Bobcats for their latest success.

Miami's victory over Ohio U. and Bowling Green's 88-71 whipping of Kent State in the MACs two-game Tuesday card makes the contenders' conference standings thus:

Ohio U. 3-1, Toledo 3-1, Western Michigan 2-1, Miami 4-2 and Bowling Green 3-3.

Toledo entertained Duquesne in a nonleague Tuesday night and fell 67-53. In another Ohio collegiate feature, unbeaten Akron won its 12th game, 63-46 over Oberlin, to match Wittenberg's 8-0 mark for a first place tie in the Ohio Conference.

Elsewhere in the state, Ohio Wesleyan (8-1) in the O.C.) clipped Wooster 86-65, Muskingum defeated Baldwin-Wallace 79-70 and Mount Union beat Capital 70-56 in Ohio Conference play; Case beat Western Reserve 57-54, Wilberforce scored a 101-95 upset of Cedarville (8-2), Steubenville (9-3) won its sixth in a row 92-68 over Geneva, Ashland (8-3) walloped Penn 98-61 and winless Malone lost No. 11 to Gannon 95-55.

Miami trailed the taller Bobcats for about three-fourths of the game, but Jeff Gehring hit a jump shot for a 38-38 tie, then followed up with three more baskets in a row to furnish a lead that stood up. Gehring's 16 points ed all scorers.

Bowling Green's victory over lowly Kent ended a three-game MAC skid for the Falcons. Nate Thurmond's 21 points and 17 rebounds led the way.

Joseph (Bob) Lehmann, junior guard from Louisville, will captain Notre Dame's 1963 football team.

Notre Dame's five home football games in 1962 attracted a total of 251,833 fans.

Crosby Weather To Be Top Factor

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — If the current sunny weather holds up, the 1963 edition of Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament starting Thursday could see some of the lowest scoring ever as Gary Player showed in preview.

The stocky pro from South Africa sizzled around the Monterey Peninsula Country Club layout in a 9-under-par 63 Tuesday in a warmup session two days after winning the San Diego Open.

Still when you talk about weather during the Crosby, the "if" is mighty big. Winds and rain aren't unusual and last year a snowstorm forced postponement of the final round.

Great Rajah Remembers Devoted Fan

SEATTLE (AP)—The name of Rogers Hornsby is enshrined forever in baseball's Hall of Fame and in the heart of David Kosh.

Each has a plaque as a visual reminder of the Rajah.

Few men penetrated the hard outer core of Rogers Hornsby to become a friend.

One was Kosh, a cerebral palsy victim who did not walk until he reached the age of 16. Sports writers, encouraging Kosh's interest in athletics, introduced him to the Raj when Hornsby managed the Pacific Coast League Seattle Rainiers in 1951.

The brusque Hornsby took Kosh with him to the team's spring training camp as a clubhouse assistant. When the Raj moved on the following year to manage the St. Louis Cardinals he again took Kosh along.

Later the Chicago Cubs, on Hornsby's recommendation, hired Kosh as a scout. One player he signed for the Cubs was Ron Santo, the team's prized third baseman.

A bulky package came in the mail to Kosh a week after Hornsby died early this month. With it was a letter from Mrs. Hornsby.

"My husband wanted you to have this," the letter said.

The package contained the personal plaque Hornsby was given when he was elected to the Hall of Fame.

Pro Cage Stars To Duel Tonight

West Lineup Brings Hot Objections

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Professional basketball presents its showcase of jewels tonight in the annual East-West All-Star Classic but one of the coaches, Fred Schaus of the West, was confronted with a problem.

The Los Angeles Lakers' pilot planned to start what he and most all cage observers believe would be perhaps the finest five in the history of the National Basketball Association attraction. Schaus named as his starting team Walt Bellamy of Chicago and Bob Pettit of St. Louis as forwards, Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco at center and Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles as guards.

It developed that Schaus' ideas met universal applause from all sides except the men who run the Eastern Division.

They contended Bellamy was named by the selectors as a center, behind Wilt (The Stilt); that Baylor is a forward and should start there, and San Francisco's Guy Rodgers should open hostilities at his nominal position, a guard.

Schaus contends that once a squad is selected, he should be permitted to position his players as he pleases. He also thought the fans would appreciate seeing Baylor playing the backcourt against his opposite number, Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals.

It could be also that Schaus feels that Baylor, who is still hampered by a trick knee, might be more valuable at guard than at forward.

The board of directors of the league were scheduled to make a ruling on the controversy some time today.

The coach of the East, Red Auerbach, meanwhile, decided on his starters—forward Jack Twyman of Cincinnati and Tom Heinsohn of Boston, center Bill Russell of Boston and guards Bob Cousy of Boston and Robertson. Game time is 8:35 p.m. (PST), 11:35 p.m. (EST).

The host Lakers expected a sell-out crowd of about 15,000 in the Sports Arena.

The West is a slight favorite.

NBA Expansion To Be Studied

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Basketball Association's Board of Governors was expected to hear expansion proposals today.

Applications for franchises have been made in behalf of Philadelphia, Cleveland, Kansas City and Baltimore. The possibility exists that the NBA's annual meeting could adjourn without any definite action being taken, which would be tantamount to rejection of the applications.

Some NBA clubowners are opposed to expansion now on the ground that before any newcomer is strengthened by existing player stock the weaker teams already in the NBA should be strengthened. They also argue that the 1963 crop of players from the college ranks is not up to the usual standard.

Tiger Cagers Chalk 5th Win By Halting Greenfield, 66-51

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville High School basketball team rolled to its fifth win of the season last night, defeating Greenfield McClain, 66-51, in a South Central Ohio League tilt here.

Good defensive play pulled the Roundtown Tigers through a slow second quarter and was a key factor in the 15-point margin at the end of the game.

The Bengals jumped to an early lead, going out front 16-7 midway through the first period and led 17-12 as the buzzer ended the quarter.

Then for four of the second eight minutes they seemed completely baffled by the McClain full court press and were unable to score.

BOB PURCELL, who replaced Garold Dade at a guard position at the start of the second period, broke the ice for Circleville. By this time the score was 18-17 in favor of Greenfield.

Purcell scored three more points. Dave Hannan's tallied two and Cleson Thomas hit two while Greenfield was scoring eight. At halftime the score was knotted at 26-26.

Circleville, coming back at the start of the second half, scored six points while the visitors were hitting five, and then held Greenfield scoreless while accumulating

Bishop Flaget Trips Wildcats

Laurelville, hitting only 11 percent from the field the first half, lost to visiting Chillicothe Bishop Flaget 89-44 last night.

The Wildcats could connect on only 16 of 54 attempts from the field during the game while the winners hit a blistering 36 of 60.

From the foul line the host school connected on 12 of 18 attempts. Bishop Flaget cagers hit 17 of 25.

Fifteen members of the visiting team hit double figures in the scoring. Cook led the race with 19, Wyman was credited with 18, Hutt garnered 12 points, Malloy 11 and Mitchell 10.

For Laurelville Gerald Waybright hit six field goals and five charity tosses for 17 points. The net high man for the Wildcats was Dan DeLong with six.

The Hocking County cagers were down 10-3 after the initial eight minutes, trailed 35-14 at halftime and were behind 65-32 as the final period started.

The Bishop Flaget reserves won the preliminary tilt 89-44. Friday Laurelville hosts Piketon in a Scioto Valley Conference tilt.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The U. S. Trotting Association's District 1 (Ohio) honored Bob Farrington as driver of the year and Coffee Break as Harness horse of the year for 1962 at its annual awards banquet Tuesday night.

Farrington, 33, of Richwood posted 203 dash victories in 1962 to better his own world mark of 201 set a year before.

Coaches Rate Smith Top Player Again

Reiss Picks Purcell And Thomas for Extra Recognition

Tom Smith tallied 103 points on the efficiency chart kept by the Tiger coaching staff to top top player honors for the fifth time this season.

Charts kept by the staff grade a player on rebounds, turnovers, controlled jump balls, assists, shooting percentages, personal fouls and recoveries.

Smith, not playing one of his better nights shootingwise, grabbed a total of 16 rebounds to give him a big boost in the rating on the charts.

Bob Purcell was second in the ratings with 60 points. He grabbed five rebounds, was credited with four of nine field goal attempts, had three recoveries.

Tiger Coach Paul Reiss commended Purcell for his good floor game. Also coming in for recognition from the coach was Cleson Thomas.

Thomas was high point man in the game last night with 14 points and had 10 rebounds. He was given a rating of 58 on the efficiency charts. Thomas played a good defensive game according to Reiss.

Bob Waple had 39 and Dave Hannan was credited with 26 points. Circleville as a team had 46 rebounds. The charts revealed the Tiger unit had 23 turnovers, 18 coming the first half.

Wichita Loses Shooting Duel With Tulsa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a few hours later than High Noon, but down in the valley known as the Basketball Badlands, two quick-draw guys matched shot for shot. When it was all over, eighth-ranked Wichita had been knocked off by tenacious Tulsa.

That's the way it went Tuesday night as Wichita's Ernie Moore and Tulsa's Jim King sank key baskets time after time until the Hurricane sharpshooter hit the target twice in succession and dropped Wichita 85-83 in double overtime.

Moore connected for two foul shots with 2 seconds left in regulation time for a 67-67 tie, the first time Wichita had pulled even since the opening seconds. Tulsa built a four-point lead with 50 seconds left in the first overtime before Dave Stallworth and Moore evened it again.

In overtime No. 2, King connected on two layups that gave Tulsa a lead it never relinquished. King finished with 18 points while Moore had 15. The high scorers were Bill Kusleika of Tulsa with 27 and Stallworth with 25.

It was Wichita's second loss in the Missouri Valley Conference, where everyone winds up chasing Cincinnati, and two losses just about tosses out your title chances.

to the defense. Doyle's teammates seemed more intent on feeding the husky pivotman than in shooting themselves.

Even with the defense stacked against him, Doyle hit seven of 11 field goals and all three charity tosses he attempted for 17 points and game scoring laurels.

Jim Coleman, a 5-9 senior guard, was the only other visitor able to hit with any consistency. He canned five field goals for 10 points.

CIRCLEVILLE, as a team, consistently-out-rebounded the visitors.

Thomas, a tower of strength under the boards, was high point man for the winners with 14 markers on six field goals and two charity tosses.

Tom Smith tallied six field goals and one charity toss for 13 points and was very aggressive for Circleville under the boards.

The Tiger scoring was well balanced. Of the players seeing the most action, Bob Waple and Purcell scored nine each, Dade tallied seven and Hannan had six.

Rounding out the scoring, Dave Bass came up with three points, Doug Dunkle taller two, Johnny Pharr one and Tom Tootle two.

With about two minutes of playing time remaining, Reiss cleared the bench.

THE FINAL seven points for Circleville came on foul shots. The Tiger tallied 10 points during the final period via the free throw route and good foul shooting throughout the game was a big help. They hit 20 of 33 attempts. Waple was five-for-five at the charity stripe.

After the game coach Reiss termed the win "strictly a team victory."

He singled Purcell out for praise for his play at guard. Coming on in relief at the end of the first period, the Tiger junior finished the game at that position.

Reiss did note that the Tiger unit will have to perform better Friday when they travel to Pleasant View for another league contest.

Last night's win gives Circleville fourth place in the league with a 3-3 slate. Washington C. H. (4-3) trails Wilmington (6-1) and Miami Trace (5-1).

Hillsboro and Pleasant View are tied for fifth, Greenfield is in seventh and Franklin Heights is the cellar dweller.

THE TIGER reserves won the preliminary game, 46-36, for their eighth win in 10 starts.

The first quarter started as though the junior varsity might come up with another of their patented cliffhangers, but in the second period they built a 23-17 edge. At the end of the third quarter they had gone ahead, 32-24, and coasted to a win.

Big Doug Roth paced the win, hitting five field goals and three charity tosses for 13 points.

John Maxwell scored 10, Chet Iery and Terry Campbell garnered six each and Jack Martin and Jeff Monroe scored two.

High man for the visitors was Ralph Nooks who hit four field goals and five charity tosses.

The Circleville reserves looked a little less ragged with their passing than in some of their past games. John Thomas and Roth controlled the boards well and Iery played his usual good floor game.

Miami Toddlers Smother OU

Sophomore Crew Fouls

Standings in Mid-Am

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Shed no more tears for Miami's Redskin cagers.

Coach Dick Shriver's gang of sophomores has come of age ahead of schedule. They dumped Ohio University 56-47 Tuesday night, making the Mid-American Conference basketball race wide open—a muddle with Miami in the middle of the free-for-all for first place.

The 'Skins operate with four sophomores in the starting lineup, and there's not a senior on the varsity roster. The way they're going now, it's bad news for their MAC rivals both now and in future campaigns.

Miami was in sad shape a few weeks ago with a 3-5 record, including a horrendous 86-36 loss at Bowling Green. Since then they've zoomed to 8-6, including a revenge conquest of the Falcons on the friendly Oxford court where they ambushed the Bobcats for their latest success.

Miami's victory over Ohio U. and Bowling Green's 88-71 whipping of Kent State in the MACs two-game Tuesday card makes the contenders' conference standings thus:

Ohio U. 3-1, Toledo 3-1, Western Michigan 2-1, Miami 4-2 and Bowling Green 3-3.

Toledo entertained Duquesne in a nonleague Tuesday night and fell 67-53. In another Ohio collegiate feature, unbeaten Akron won its 12th game, 69-46 over Oberlin, to match Wittenberg's 8-0 mark for a first place tie in the Ohio Conference.

Elsewhere in the state, Ohio Wesleyan (8-1) in the O.C.) clobbered Wooster 86-65, Muskingum defeated Baldwin-Wallace 79-70 and Mount Union beat Capital 70-56 in Ohio Conference play; Case beat Western Reserve 57-54, Wilberforce scored a 101-95 upset of Cedarville (8-2), Steubenville (9-3) won its sixth in a row 92-68 over Geneva, Ashland (8-3) walloped Fenn 98-61 and winless Malone lost No. 11 to Gannon 95-55.

Miami trailed the taller Bobcats for about three-fourths of the game, but Jeff Gehring hit a jump shot for a 39-38 tie, then followed up with three more baskets in a row to furnish a lead that stood up. Gehring's 16 points ed all scorers.

Bowling Green's victory over lowly Kent ended a three-game MAC skid for the Falcons. Nate Thurmond's 21 points and 17 rebounds led the way.

Crosby Weather To Be Top Factor

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — If the current sunny weather holds up, the 1963 edition of Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament starting Thursday could see some of the lowest scoring ever as Gary Player showed in preview.

The stocky pro from South Africa sizzled around the Monterey Peninsula Country Club layout in a 9-under-par 63 Tuesday in a warmup session two days after winning the San Diego Open.

Still when you talk about weather during the Crosby, the "if" is mighty big. Winds and rain aren't unusual and last year a snowstorm forced postponement of the final round.

Firing of Paul Brown Bares Tales Of Player Boycott, Dip in Morale

CLEVELAND (AP) — Seven Cleveland Browns had threatened not to return to the club next season if Paul Brown remained as coach, the Akron Beacon Journal has reported.

This was one of two reasons behind Brown's firing last Wednesday, according to Arthur B. Modell, club president, who listed them in an interview with Beacon Journal Sports Editor Loren Tibbals and sports writer Jack Patterson.

The other reason was that Modell felt the club did not achieve its maximum potential in 1962. Modell said in the interview that there were "as many as 25 reasons why I fired Paul Brown... but only two were really important."

In his own words, here's what

Modell told the two writers: "First of all, in my considered opinion, I don't believe the maximum potential of the ball club was being realized."

"Secondly, it was reliably reported to me that, for various reasons, no less than seven key players—and these weren't rookies, believe me—weren't coming back next year under the same conditions."

"This was the beginning of the end for the Browns...it was the start of the complete collapse of our club."

Modell indicated in the interview that he first learned of the players' feelings after the club had been knocked out of the race at Dallas in early December and that it came further to his attention before the Dec. 15 game at San Francisco.

"Somebody the other day asked me if a player rebellion had shaped up in 'Frisco,' Modell was quoted as saying, 'This particular rumor had some of the Browns refusing to go one the field against the 49ers... Sort of like that protest against Oscar Vott with the (Cleveland) Indians back in the '40s."

"Truthfully, it wasn't anything like that... there never was any doubt about the players taking the field."

"The dissatisfied players didn't approach me as a committee... some of them talked to me individually... but, for the most part, I learned of their feelings through sources even closer to the team than myself."

"As I said there were at least seven men who were set against coming back to the team next season... One, in fact, was considering a west coast college coaching job... I talked him out of it."

Modell said he wanted a winner and an exciting team, but left no doubt the most critical reason for the move against Brown was the player dissatisfaction.

Fullback Jim Brown believes the dismissal of Coach Paul Brown was justified and team morale will improve because of it.

Melvin Durslag, Herald-Examiner columnist, said Monday that Jim told him after playing here Sunday in the National Football League's pro bowl game that the coach had not done his best to be reasonable with Art Modell, who bought the club two years ago.

"I can say truthfully that I was close to the situation," Jim said, "and I feel that Art Modell had good reason doing what he did."

"Brown had the feel that the club should be run as it was under the former management. This was unsound thinking, because financial conditions were different."

"The former owners didn't have to invest close to $4 million for the club. Since Modell had to come up with all this money, he had to protect his interests and he had the right to introduce promotional ideas of his own and other plans that would help to get back his investment. It was here that the conflict arose..."

"You have to remember that when Modell bought the club Paul Brown cashed in almost a half million dollars' worth of stock. He made a lot of money. He was set for life. He had no right to resist ideas of the new owners, who had special financial problems..."

"Modell tried hard to compromise, but you really must know Paul Brown to understand."

Jim said the coach has great knowledge of the game and "ran a crisp peration," but:

"Morale - wise, I think things will improve... Football players don't like to be treated as inferiors. And I feel, besides, that changes in our system are necessary."

"People keep harping about the great record of Brown, but I am not interested in what he used to do years ago. I am interested in what he has done since I came to the club in 1957."

"We won the title that year, but we haven't won any since."

NEW YORK (AP)—It's been a long time since a fiery television feud started blazing. The last intramural battle was when Jack Paar walked off his show in a rage at his bosses.

Now a little conflagration has started. On Thursday last a comedian on NBC's "Tonight Show," starring Johnny Carson, mentioned casually that he had been watching "The Merv Griffin Show," a program on the same network. However, when the "Tonight Show" went on the air that night, two words—"Merv Griffin"—had obviously been erased from the sound track.

This is called "blooping," and is normally used to erase offensive, libelous or slanderous language. It is rarely used to eliminate references to programs even on rival networks.

So on Friday, an annoyed and sarcastic Griffin talked about it on his own show.

"I was blooped out of a show on the same network I work for," he confided sadly. "Is Merv the new four-letter word? Their mistake might have been to turn on the sound for the rest of the show, you know."

This turned into an embarrassing situation. An NBC spokesman explained that the two-word bloop was the result of "a mistaken, emotional reaction" by Perry Cross, producer of the "Tonight Show."

"He was disturbed about newspaper reports — completely unfounded and untrue — that NBC was unhappy about the 'Tonight Show' and planned to replace Carson with Griffin," he continued. "He's sorry he did. But the important thing is that he did it without the knowledge of NBC or of Carson."

Carson is away on a short vacation from the show. Although the "Tonight Show" under Carson's leadership has not been generating as much comment or as many headlines as it did in the old turbulent Paar days, it seems to be holding its own nicely in the ratings. They are just about the same as they were a year ago when Paar was around—some 35 per cent of the audience watching television that late at night.

But anyway, a good blazing feud adds zest to viewing. Recommended tonight: "Russians: Self Impressions," CBS, 7:30-8:30 (EST)—studies of Russian character through the eyes of its great writers; Bob Hope Show, NBC, 9-10—excerpts from shows performed during a holiday trip to troops serving in the Far East.

Accord Hinted In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the publishers have agreed on a plan that they feel may solve the key union security issue in the 48-day-old strike against the city's two daily newspapers.

During a 3½-hour bargaining session Tuesday, the union and management decided to meet Thursday morning at the Press and News.

Union leaders and Press management will make an effort then to get 118 employees in the Press' commercial department to join the Guild if they want to. Some 160 of the 278 employees in the Press commercial department are Guild members.

Mayor Ralph Locher plans to make an appeal at that meeting.

The Guild and publishers planned to continue their talks at City Hall tonight. Teamsters Local 73, the other union on strike, has set another session for Thursday afternoon.

Management and the Teamsters also met Tuesday. The mayor reported progress in that session.

The Inter-Union Publishing Corp., consisting of nine craft unions at both papers—has announced plans to publish a daily newspaper in cooperation with the Guild for the duration of the strike. The morning paper, to be called the Cleveland Record, will sell for 10 cents and be published daily except Thursday and Sunday. John Blair of the Plain Dealer staff was named editor.

GI Prisoner To Be Honored

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—An American soldier who suffered privations and humiliations for more than a year while a prisoner of Communists in Laos will be honored here Thursday in Fayetteville's first Resolutions Day.

This year's honoree is Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger of nearby Ft. Bragg, who was released last August by Communist forces in Laos after 6 months of brutality and torture.

Sgt. Ballenger, a native of Columbus, Ohio, was captured in April 1961 while serving as an advisor to the royal Laotian forces. After his release he told of long months in dark prisons with meager food, little clothing and brutal guards. His release came through an agreement between opposing forces.

Business Briefs

David L. Yates a partner of Yates Motor Co., Rambler dealership in Circleville, today announced that the 1963 Rambler has been named "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend magazine.

Yates received official notification of the award at a zone meeting from Thomas A. Coupe, vice-president of automotive sales of American Motors Corporation.

The local Rambler dealer said he has available complimentary copies of the 26-page section devoted to Rambler in the February issue of Motor Trend.

The reprint includes complete road tests of the full 1963 Rambler line—Classic, Ambassador and American—an illustrated article on engineering and manufacturing, and a pictorial feature tracing the automotive history of American Motors.

Symbolic of the award is a five foot silver and gold trophy which Charles E. Nerpel, editor of Motor Trend magazine has presented to Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors, at a ceremony in Detroit. In making the award Nerpel said:

"Each year sees more and more engineering and styling advances from more auto makers and through more model lines, and each year it is more difficult to select the product that best shows the most progress in design. However, based on close scrutiny to all features offered for 1963, American Motors' Ramblers are this year's best examples of outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership."

Yates termed the award to Rambler a "singular honor" and "most gratifying because it represents the objective viewpoint of qualified technical experts after comparative evaluation of all the 1963 cars."

E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Inc., was owned by 230,610 stockholders as of Dec. 31, 1962, an increase of 3,691 over the number of holders recorded at the end of 1961.

The company has approximately 93,000 employees, of whom about 50,700 were stockholders at the end of the year.

Every state of the Union is represented among the owners of the company.

Bloodmobile Set for Visit Here Tomorrow

Committee Attempts To Recruit New Prospective Donors

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its first visit of the new year tomorrow in Circleville at the First Methodist Church from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Robert Johnson, recruitment chairman, said today that the initial visit is extremely important due to the blood shortage during the past several weeks. He said appointments for donors may be made by calling GR 4-5736.

In an effort to get new donors, Johnson and his committee have outlined these points concerning blood and donors:

Who may give? Anyone between ages 18 and 59. Those between 18 and 21 must have parents' consent unless married.

DONORS must weigh at least 110 pounds. Those under may donate pediatric units for use with children. Donors must wait six months after major surgery and one year after giving birth.

A complete medical history is taken from each prospective donor at each visit. No one is permitted to give blood unless physically able.

Johnson continued to say that blood is a living tissue, only secured from the human body. Blood is outdated in 21 days and no practical method has been devised to preserve it longer. However, none is wasted, after the 21 day period it is processed for derivatives.

Blood is refrigerated at once after being drawn and is taken at the end of the day to the Columbus Regional Blood Center, where it is processed, typed and stored for use of 50 hospitals in a 23 county area.

Supplies are delivered once a week to the hospitals by a truck with volunteer drivers. Emergency needs are delivered by bus, sheriff or highway patrol.

The local chapter is responsible for blood needs of Pickaway County and will recruit donors in specific types for Berger Hospital when not available through the blood bank.

FAMILIES are urged to make replacements of blood used for relatives and friends at the regular visits of the mobile unit to Pickaway County.

All blood and its derivatives are furnished absolutely free to patients.

The local chapter pays $10 per 100 C unit of serum albumen (blood derivative) used by patients at Berger Hospital. All gamma globulin used by the health departments is furnished by the Red Cross program.

Johnson closed by repeating his appeal for donors during tomorrow's visit and emphasizing that appointments should be made in advance although walk-ins will be accepted.

Accord Hinted In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the publishers have agreed on a plan that they feel may solve the key union security issue in the 48-day-old strike against the city's two daily newspapers.

During a 3½-hour bargaining session Tuesday, the union and management decided to meet Thursday morning at the Press and News.

Union leaders and Press management will make an effort then to get 118 employees in the Press' commercial department to join the Guild if they want to. Some 160 of the 278 employees in the Press commercial department are Guild members.

Mayor Ralph Locher plans to make an appeal at that meeting.

The Guild and publishers planned to continue their talks at City Hall tonight. Teamsters Local 73, the other union on strike, has set another session for Thursday afternoon.

Management and the Teamsters also met Tuesday. The mayor reported progress in that session.

The Inter-Union Publishing Corp., consisting of nine craft unions at both papers—has announced plans to publish a daily newspaper in cooperation with the Guild for the duration of the strike. The morning paper, to be called the Cleveland Record, will sell for 10 cents and be published daily except Thursday and Sunday. John Blair of the Plain Dealer staff was named editor.

GI Prisoner To Be Honored

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—An American soldier who suffered privations and humiliations for more than a year while a prisoner of Communists in Laos will be honored here Thursday in Fayetteville's first Resolutions Day.

After his release he told of long months in dark prisons with meager food, little clothing and brutal guards. His release came through an agreement between opposing forces.

Business Briefs

David L. Yates a partner of Yates Motor Co., Rambler dealership in Circleville, today announced that the 1963 Rambler has been named "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend magazine.

Yates received official notification of the award at a zone meeting from Thomas A. Coupe, vice-president of automotive sales of American Motors Corporation.

The local Rambler dealer said he has available complimentary copies of the 26-page section devoted to Rambler in the February issue of Motor Trend.

The reprint includes complete road tests of the full 1963 Rambler line — Classic, Ambassador and American — an illustrated article on engineering and manufacturing, and a pictorial feature tracing the automotive history of American Motors.

Symbolic of the award is a five foot silver and gold trophy which Charles E. Nerpel, editor of Motor Trend magazine has presented to Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors, at a ceremony in Detroit. In making the award Nerpel said:

"Each year sees more and more engineering and styling advances from more auto makers and through more model lines, and each year it is more difficult to select the product that best shows the most progress in design. However, based on close scrutiny to all features offered for 1963, American Motors' Ramblers are this year's best examples of outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership."

Yates termed the award to Rambler a "singular honor" and "most gratifying because it represents the objective viewpoint of qualified technical experts after comparative evaluation of all the 1963 cars."

E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Inc., was owned by 230,610 stockholders as of Dec. 31, 1962, an increase of 3,691 over the number of holders recorded at the end of 1961.

The company has approximately 93,000 employees, of whom about 50,700 were stockholders at the end of the year.
